NORTHWESTERN "U" FACES BIG MONEY CRISIS

Large Deficit; May Lose City Campus.

Northwestern university, it became known yesterday, is in the midst of the gravest financial crisis of its existence. Without having made provision for increased salaries to its teaching staff, which the trustees regard as a pressing obligation, the university will end its fiscal year on June 30 with a deficit of at least $175,000. That sum, William J. Farquharson, the director of finance, said yesterday had been guaranteed by a benefactor who refused to permit his name to be made public, but only on the condition that the trustees adopt methods to place the institution on a sound financial footing. Of equal importance is the fact that unless $1,500,000 is raised before March 30 the university will forfeit its option to purchase its Chicago campus site at Chicago avenue and Lake Shore drive. When the trustees took the option for $15,000 some time ago, the price asked for the land was $4 a foot. Other property in the vicinity has recently sold as high as $14.

University Must Expand. "In addition to its financial difficulties," Mr. Farquharson said, "the university faces an imperative need of expansion. Last fall more than 300 young women who went to Evanston were turned away because of lack of dormitory space. The school of commerce, quarantined with the schools of law and dentistry in the building at 11 West Lake street, ranks next to Harvard's in ability to rank before it. Yet it cannot accommodate its students. The Gary law library, a gift of E. H. Gary of the United States steel corporation, is also housed in the Lake street structure, which is not fireproof. But if the library were destroyed it could never be replaced.

Classrooms Too Small. The dental school and the medical school on the south side likewise labor at a disadvantage. The medical school especially is adding larger quarters and equipment to meet the demands the public is making upon it.

In Evanston the chemistry and physics departments have been obliged to turn down fellowships—which might have led to discoveries of great value to business—because it was impossible to accommodate the men. The same situation has to be repeated several times a year because classrooms are too small and too few.

In the face of this situation the university will have to curtail both the scope of its work and the number of instructors unless help is forthcoming from some quarter.

Save Education for Poor. In 1913 a survey showed that for every $1 paid in tuition the university expended $1.50 of its own money, and the trustees are disinclined to raise the cost of university training further when the heads of the poor. In previous years the deficits have been written off the books by individual benefactors. But the amounts have gradually risen until when this year's deficit is paid, the total for the last eleven years will amount to $600,000.

Among the contributing factors are greatly augmented costs of labor (except professional employees) and materials. A tabulation of the deficits by fiscal periods follows:

Needs $4,000,000 Endowment. To produce $200,000 a year will require an endowment of $4,000,000, which is $200,000 from the cost of the new Chicago campus. Around the latter it has been the intention of the trustees to enter all the schools except those housed in Evanston. Were the plan to be executed the institution would have an equipment comparable to any.

The university now has an endowment of $5,500,000, which produced an income for the last fiscal year of $215,000. By the terms of the gifts of principal, $72,000 of this sum had to be used for specific purposes. The remainder the trustees could dispose of as they saw fit.

A great amount of land is also owned by the institution. At one period in its career it was the trustee's practice to sell parcels to offset deficits.

JOHN DODGE AT CRISIS IN ILLNESS; HORACE, BETTER

JOHN DODGE.

HORACE DODGE.

New York, Jan. 12.—John Dodge, Detroit automobile manufacturer, who is seriously ill, was taken to his home tonight. He is suffering from pneumonia, which developed from influenza. His brother, Horace, also stricken with pneumonia, is said to be recovering. The automobile magnates were in New York attending the automobile show when taken ill.

Next to Henry Ford the Dodge brothers are reputed to be the richest automobile manufacturers in Detroit's multimillionaire motor colony. Their interests are rated between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000.

They originally invested $5,000 each in the Ford Motor company. For this small outlay, in 1903, they have received somewhere in the neighborhood of $30,000,000 each, although the exact figures are known only to themselves.

FIVE BLOWN OVERBOARD IN BIG GALE

LONDON, Tuesday, Jan. 13.—Five passengers on a Belgian mail boat from Dover to Ostend were blown overboard during a fierce gale which raged Sunday, according to the Daily Mail's Ostend correspondent. Their rescue was impossible. Many others among the 179 passengers, the correspondent adds, were severely injured. The British Isles and the continental coast for the last three days have been buffeted from the gale, which at times reached almost hurricane velocity.

Much damage is reported and England's communication service with the continent has been crippled.

COREAN ARMY CROSSES LINE TO FIGHT JAPS

HONOLULU, Jan. 12.—[By the Associated Press.]—A Korean national army has crossed the Siberian frontier into Korea and has captured En Chin from the Japanese provisional government forces, according to a cablegram from Shanghai to the Korean National association here.

It was said her mother had sailed for Rumania because of the high cost of living, and that Miss Salter had gone to room with a Miss Fish. The Fishes are too plentiful in New York even to start a canvass of them, and the New York police wagged their heads and asked why they should be expected to do anything. None of the De Kays ever had notified them they were lost.

Art, Carranza, "Reds."

But, the private affairs inquired, did not the Baroness Gerlich, a Rumanian noblewoman of Paris, lose a trunk full of art treasures? And didn't a woman of the name of Eliza Freeman leave Paris at the same time? And, asked an attaché of the Rumanian consulate in New York, whoever heard of a Rumanian named Salter anyway? And asked an old business associate of John Wesley De Kay in Providence, wouldn't President Carranza of Mexico "pay any price" to get De Kay today? Wasn't it possible for Carranza's agents to spirit the daughter away? Did they know John Wesley De Kay was publishing books for the left wing of the party?

DE KAY TANGLE RASPS NERVES OF HULL HOUSE

Look for Jeanne and I'm Here—Kiss Me?

BULLETIN.

Portage, Wis., Jan. 12.—An investigator from the Chicago police headquarters was reported on his way here late today to investigate the mysterious appearance in this city of a young woman said to bear a striking resemblance to Miss Jeanne A. de Kay.

While psychiatrists wrestled with the weighty problem of what amnesia might do to a girl living on Halsted street and Sherlock Holmes through out the country were working the needle overtime on theories that ran the gamut of direful plots, from stealthy Carrancista agents to Baroness Gerlich's latest art losses in Paris—Hull House threw up its weary hands last night and wished it was rid of "The vanishing De Kays" and the horde of amateur sleuths who have been making its doorstep their home.

As for the De Kays—

"If they continue to drop off the family tree into limbs with their present rapidity," remarked one detective, "there'll be none left to prosecute the search, and the whole disquieting problem will automatically solve itself."

Mrs. Britton Asks Question.

"And why should we go on paying taxpayers' good money looking for this girl?" asked Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton, when John De Kay doesn't seem to be doing the right thing himself? It now develops he didn't tell us everything and there's been something funny about the whole thing from the start. At first the stage was set for suicide. Now things are in a kaleidoscopic maze. And like as not Jeanne De Kay will walk in here one of these fine mornings and say: "Here I am. Kiss me."

"She was just a plain little girl looking for work," said Miss Jane Addams, "and all this talk about international conspiracies and kidnappings is preposterous."

John Loses Himself.

Young John De Kay now appears to have become so deeply interested in locating his sister that he has lost himself. He was to have appeared in Providence, R. I., yesterday, according to schedule, to confer with his father's attorney, Thomas Z. Lee, who is directing a search through the middle west from the Atlantic seaboard. When John failed to arrive Mr. Lee telegraphed the young man's uncle, Henry M. De Kay, at Ashburn, Va., to come to Providence.

When a Washington representative of The Tribune tried to find out whether Henry had left Ashburn he was informed by the telephone operator, station agent, and others among the 100 inhabitants of that little village in Loudoun county that they never had heard of Henry.

And Where Is Dad?

When all of the De Kays appeared to have evaporated there was nothing to do but look for Miss Dadie Salter, the mysterious Rumanian shipboard acquaintance of the missing Jeanne, who seems to have contracted the De Kay disappearing malady herself. Had she not engaged a room at the Hotel Manhattan, in New York, for Saturday and Sunday and failed to occupy it?

It was said her mother had sailed for Rumania because of the high cost of living, and that Miss Salter had gone to room with a Miss Fish. The Fishes are too plentiful in New York even to start a canvass of them, and the New York police wagged their heads and asked why they should be expected to do anything. None of the De Kays ever had notified them they were lost.

TAKEN BY DEATH

MICHAEL F. SULLIVAN.

TWO COLLEGE STUDENTS HELD AS HOLDUP MEN

J. W. White of 4500 Sheridan road stepped into his front hall early this morning to go to his apartment when three youths presented revolvers and relieved him of $47.

He ran to Wilson avenue and Broadway when they had left and told his story to Policemen John Murphy and William Strauss.

The two policemen, reinforced by Policemen George Winthoff and William Thorpe, at once began a search of the neighborhood.

At Broadway and Montrose Winthoff grabbed John Dawson of 6425 University avenue, 20 years old, just as he was about to enter a Yellow taxi.

Strapped a bit later picked up the trail of Hugh Burns of 1111 Ingleside avenue, 20 years old, whose home town is Middleburg, Ill. He gave chase when Burns broke into a run and fired eight shots at him. Finally Murphy captured his man in a back yard.

Burns and Dawson admitted, when taken to the station, that they are students at the Chicago Technical college, and papers found on their persons seem to bear this out.

The boys say they had been carousing and had committed the robbery while under the influence of liquor obtained at Tommy Thomas' cabaret in West Madison street.

They pleaded it was their first offense.

The $47 taken from White, together with a revolver, were found on Dawson.

FLAMES DAMAGE WEST SIDE HALL 'RED' RAID SCENE

Fire believed to have been of an incendiary origin threatened to destroy the West Side Coliseum at Roosevelt road and Blue Island avenue last night. The building until recently was Chicago headquarters for the Communist Party of America, the object of recent "Red" raids.

The police and Fire Attorney John R. McCabe's aids at once began an investigation.

S. Meadows, part owner of a dry goods store, and the owner of the building are said to have furnished agents of the government with information concerning the radicals. It may be, the police say, the fire was "planted" in reprisal. According to Meadows the Communists' lease had been canceled.

The fire started in the basement and when the flames arrived was burning so fiercely Battalion Chief Hoesev sounded a 2-1-1 alarm. Later Fire Marshal Thomas O'Connor arrived to direct the fight against the fire in person.

Again and again firemen seeking to enter the building were driven back by smoke from the basement, where dry goods valued at $75,000, belonging to Meadows and his partner, J. Singer, were stored.

Fire Marshal O'Connor said damage to the building alone would total more than $50,000.

Camera Men Hide in Hay to Take Movies of Wilson

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—Attempts to obtain movies of President Wilson as pictures of William Hohenscholl, former emperor, in his garden at Amerongen, were taken, were frustrated today by White House secret service officers.

The camera men concealed themselves in a wagon load of hay, which was driven slowly by the White House while the president was on the lawn in his wheel chair. Before they could get their cameras into action, however, the secret service men stopped the wagon and investigated. After the photographers had convinced the officers they had not had time to make pictures they were allowed to go.

MIKE SULLIVAN, POLITICAL CHIEF, DIES SUDDENLY

Hoyne Assistant Victim of Short Illness.

Michael F. Sullivan of 1613 West Jackson boulevard, for seven years State's Attorney Hoyne's first assistant and for many years a dominant figure in west side politics, died suddenly last night at his residence following an attack of uraemic poisoning. He was 51 years old.

Mr. Sullivan had been ill for the last two weeks, due to a mastoid abscess which had burst, but he was regarded as on the road to recovery. In fact, his condition was so much improved yesterday he went downtown to consult with his physician, Dr. J. R. Davey of the West Side hospital, a specialist in ear diseases, and Dr. Stephen G. West, Columbus Memorial building.

Holds Political Conference. After an absence of little more than an hour Mr. Sullivan returned home and relatives say he appeared none the worse for his trip. At 8:30 o'clock in the evening Mr. Sullivan, a friend of many years, had a political conference with him, and Mr. Sullivan retired at about 10:45 o'clock, full of plans to go to Springfield on Wednesday and take up his duties as a second district delegate to the constitutional convention and to resume work possibly today in his office at the county building.

His nurse was awakened at about 11:30 o'clock when he started to cough, due to a convulsion, and he died a few minutes after she ran to his aid.

High blood pressure is declared to have been one of the contributory factors to death.

Hoyne Pays Tribute.

Word of Mr. Sullivan's death caused widespread grief throughout the west side, where he was the Democratic power in the Eighteenth ward, in the fire department, where he had been a fire attorney; among the police, whose attorney he had been, and among his associates at Mr. Hoyne's office.

"He was a natural leader of unusual qualifications and gifts," was Mr. Hoyne's tribute to his dead assistant.

"Mr. Sullivan was an excellent lawyer and prosecutor, and a born leader who made friends everywhere," said George T. Kenney, Mr. Hoyne's secretary.

Starts as Water Boy.

Associates characterized his career as one possible only to Chicago; another regarded for the ambitions.

Born in Loganport, Ind., in 1869, the son of a Washburn railroad worker and one of seven children, he served successively as water boy and call boy on the Washburn, as clerk and apprentice molder, but the law was his objective. To obtain it he attended night school, clerking meantime in the American Express company office at Loganport.

At 23 he came to Chicago and entered Chicago Kent College of Law as a night student, working during the day as stenographer in the law offices of Goodrich, Vincent & Bradley. He was admitted to the bar in 1897 and at once began the practice of law.

His political career outside of ward circles began in 1901, when the younger Carter H. Harrison, then mayor, appointed him as an assistant corporation counsel. He served in the same capacity under Mayor Edward F. Dunne, then retired to private practice when Mayor Fred Busse took office.

Later Mr. Sullivan served successively as counsel for the Chicago Police men's association, as fire attorney, and as first assistant state's attorney.

Broke Up Aaron Trust.

One of Mr. Sullivan's achievements while serving as Mr. Hoyne's chief assistant was the breaking up of the notorious Chicago "arson trust," which had swindled insurance companies out of millions of dollars. With Judge Frank N. Johnson, Jr., then also a Hoyne assistant, he led in rounding up the "arson ring," breaking its grip and sending its ringleaders to prison.

Another of his achievements was the campaign that resulted in the establishment of Chicago's famous automobile court, and when Earl Barr, "the Jimmie," and Lloyd Bopp, convicted of murder, and others escaped from the county jail in an episode that became notorious, he led the inquiry that resulted in the rounding up of the fugitives and a couple of hangings.

He is survived by his widow, three sisters, and a brother.

Author of "Brain Storm"

Theory Is Seriously Sick

Morris Plater, N. J., Jan. 12.—Dr. Britton D. Evans, 61, superintendent of the state hospital and a well known alienist, is seriously ill from a complication of diseases. Dr. Evans, at the first trial of Harry K. Thaw, advanced the theory that Thaw was suffering from a "brain storm" at the time he killed Stanford White.

FORBIDS LIQUOR STORING EXCEPT IN OWN HOMES

Safety Vault Cannot Be Booze Haven.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—The wets received two heavy blows today, but obtained one slight ray of hope.

The United States Supreme court dealt the hardest blow when it refused motions, filed on behalf of the Liquor Dealers' association of New Jersey, asking permission to institute original proceedings in the court to test the constitutionality of the prohibition amendment to the federal constitution. The court decided it had no jurisdiction.

The court also was the source of the day of hope. It permitted arguments on motions filed by the state of Rhode Island asking the same permission sought in the New Jersey case. As the federal amendment becomes effective Friday, action in this case is expected within the next few hours.

Keep It Only at Home.

The second blow to the wets was given by the internal revenue office which ordered that no liquor may be kept except in government bonded warehouses or in homes.

Liquor found outside these two places is liable to seizure.

Liquor may be kept in the apartment of a permanent guest at a hotel, but nowhere else in the hotel, and none can be served in hotel dining rooms or in clubs.

The order says that persons having in storage warehouses, safe deposit vaults, and other places legally acquired liquor must remove such liquor to their private dwellings on or before Jan. 27, 1920.

Must Report Possession.

"Legally acquired liquor" is liquor bought prior to July 1, 1919. If liquor are found in storage warehouses or other places except private dwellings, residents of apartment houses, hotels, or boarding houses may keep legally acquired liquor either in their rooms or in lockers "over which they have complete and exclusive control." Such liquors may not be consumed, however, except in the rooms of the owner, and be served only to bona fide guests of the owner.

New Jersey Case Ruling.

The Supreme court order denying permission to bring the New Jersey suit was made orally by Chief Justice White, who held the motion to file the case "rested upon a plain disregard of two principles of jurisdiction, that has been settled from the beginning."

One, he said, was that a citizen of a state could not bring a suit against the state without its consent while the other was that the federal constitution does not create jurisdiction, but only apporportion it, and accordingly under the constitution, the Supreme court had no jurisdiction in such a case as that from New Jersey.

Plan Milwaukee Fight.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—An attempt to legalize 25 per cent beer in Wisconsin was begun today with the filing of a suit by the Manitowish Products company seeking to restrain federal officials from interfering with the manufacture of such beer. A temporary injunction will be asked in a few days.

Oregon, 25th State, Goes Into U. S. Suffrage Column

Salem, Ore., Jan. 12.—The Oregon legislature, in special session here today, ratified the amendment to the federal constitution granting suffrage to women. Oregon is the twenty-fifth state to ratify the amendment. Thirty-six are necessary.

GLASS FAVORS ASSISTANT AS TREASURY HEAD

R. C. LETTINGWELL.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—President Wilson is expected to send to the senate this week the nomination of the successor of Carter Glass as secretary of the treasury. Mr. Glass plans to take his seat in the senate the latter part of the week.

Those best informed believed today that R. C. Lettingwell, assistant secretary of the treasury, in charge of fiscal bureaus, will be nominated, as he has not only the support of Secretary Glass but also that of other prominent administration officials, including Joseph E. Tumulty, the president's secretary.

ENGLAND SENDS FIRST ENVOY TO BERLIN SINCE 1914

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Lord Kilmercock left today for Berlin to take up his duties as British charge d'affaires in the German capital.

Some time is likely to elapse before British diplomatic representation in Germany is restored to the grade of embassy, as the present intention of the British government is to maintain only a legation there until such time as Germany has given proof of good behavior.

The former German embassy in Carlton House terrace is still in care of the Swiss legation, which took charge when the United States entered the war. Prince Lichnowsky left many personal belongings there when he departed from London on the outbreak of the war. Germany is not expected to send a diplomatic representative here at once.

Cling to Cars Like Fleas.

In each first class train coach there are more persons than places. There is hardly room to stand. Under the coaches, on the top of the cars, between them, on the steps, and in every conceivable place, there is a human being clinging. They are so thick on the tender that the fireman can hardly get at the coal. They are clustered on the engine like a swarm of bees. The wonder is the wheels are kept on the ground. The box cars marked "eight horses, forty men," have eighty persons in them. They stand in coal cars like sticks of cordwood on end. They are so closely packed literally there is not room "for one more."

To watch the evacuation of the railroad yards recalls to mind the old nursery rhyme, slightly revised: "Hark, hark, the dogs do bark; the Russians are leaving the town, some in rags, some in tags, and some in velvet gown."

Many Carry Their All.

For four days a stream of vehicles pours to the railroad station. Every slight, every wagon is packed with salvaged household effects. Children are perched on top. Adult members of the families trudge behind, carrying beds. All bring bedding; some bring beds. The weather the persons the men he tries to carry away. Families of officers and of civilian officials take sufficient things to start housekeeping in a humble manner at Rostov or Khabarov, knowing people there have nothing to spare and not even enough for themselves.

Next come the poor. They take little or nothing. Many carry only a sack with a loaf or two of black bread or a bundle of dried fish. The more fortunate have a sausage or two.

Remember Past Suffering.

This class of people are leaving because they believe, with the bolsheviks at Khabarov, no more food will come from the south.

The price of bread they think will mount beyond their means. They remember how it was last winter when the Ukrainian bolsheviks were in control. With the coming of the Moscow bolsheviks they know conditions are certain to be worse.

Disease and Hunger Go with Fugitives.

The Tribune last night received two cables via Paris covering the defeat and retreat of Denikin's army. One, from Paul Williams of its European staff, got over to Paris after a month. It is from Khar'kov. It describes the Red driven hordes of starving people being swept back toward the Black sea. It pictures the bolshevik forces as a relentless, conquering flood.

The other cablegram is from Thomas Stewart Ryan, writer in Bucharest last Saturday. It relates to the havoc wrought by the "minstrelmen" of Ukraine, 300,000 strong, on the banks and in the rear of the Denikin armies as they advanced toward Moscow in their first successful onrush. To the Ukrainians, and not the bolsheviks, it gives the main credit for the decisive defeat of the White Russians. This dispatch is, to an extent, in conflict with Mr. Williams' report (which covers a much earlier phase of the fighting).

However, the Williams cablegram gives for the first time a vivid picture of a disaster to an army comparable with Napoleon's similar retreat from Moscow.

BY PAUL WILLIAMS

(Chicago Tribune Staff Writer, New Service, Bureau, Constantinople Company.)

KHARKOV, Dec. 7, via Paris, Jan. 12.—The shadow of bolshevism is drawing nearer every day. This city, the largest in southern Russia, is being evacuated of those inhabitants to whom to remain means death or semi-starvation.

By tens of thousands the people have been pouring southward for four days and the movement will cease only with the arrival of the Red forces. There are not enough locomotives or rolling stock and so along the right of way there is a path in the snow beaten hard by the weary feet of those without the courage to stay longer.

Upon each back is a burden. Hour after hour they plow on, stopping to gaze wide-eyed at the slowly passing trains full of a groaning weight of humanity.

THE WEATHER.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 13, 1920.

Sunrise, 7:10. Sunset, 4:42. Moon rise, 1:03 a. m. Wednesday.

Chicago and vicinity.

Partly cloudy; and colder Tuesday; Wednesday probably unsettled; from northwest the demand for gasoline exceeds the supply. The driver of an empty pleigh finds himself explaining why he couldn't carry some more. Before I had gone a square in this city before yesterday I heard a Comstock officer shout to a driver who had no load. The Comstock fired at him with an automatic pistol. The bullet went high, which was lucky for the pedestrians. The driver was stopped by another Comstock. The officer and his belated over the side of the pleigh, bent over the driver, and ordered him to turn around. As he approached the point where I stood he again drew his pistol, aiming in my direction.

Based on the Through: The railroad station was a scene of great confusion. It was so crowded that progress through it was difficult. People stood in line all day buying tickets. Reports that tickets to Rostov were being offered by speculators for 100,000 rubles brought a warning from Gen. Mal Malovsky that speculators caught at their trade would be shot on the spot.

Every inch of every bench was occupied by people with bundles slung over their feet. Hundreds lay in two or three rows about the walls, waiting for their turn in the passageway over the tracks. Blackways and aisles were so lined with people and their belongings that there was barely room to enter and pass through. Many remain in the station under such circumstances more than twenty-four hours, their places immediately being taken by their brothers.

On the trains they were packed like sardines. They perched like crows on the roofs and hung like bats to the trucks and railings. There were seven on the front of the engine drawing the train which I, too, was riding.

Typical Goes with Them: Mercifully, the weather is cold. For four days there has been a dark rain with intermittent snow flurries, freezing after sundown, which comes shortly after 4 o'clock. There is a constant thumping on the roofs of the coaches made by many feet in which the circulation has slowed by the cold.

Although it is colder riding outside, it is safer. Inside the sties coaches the passengers have hardly room to move a foot. Contact with one another is absolutely unavoidable, and contact may mean death. The disease is spread by a louse, and no person traveling in Russia, no matter what his habits, is immune from the disease. One may become infested in any first class compartment, in the theater, or by checking one's overcoat in a restaurant. The only way to avoid the louse is to avoid other persons, and this is an impossibility.

It is expected that several thousands of those evacuating Kharkov will be ill with typhus before they reach their destination. How they will be cared for is a problem yet to be solved.

Planes of Refugees Crowded: Moscow and the other cities to which the already overcrowded with refugees. It is almost impossible to get a room. The theaters, public buildings, and warehouses have been requisitioned, but the personnel to operate them is woefully small.

The shortage of medical supplies is acute. Undoubtedly many will die without any attention and others from insufficient care. The personnel is so small that it is beyond control and getting worse.

The refugees who are able will work their way farther south, where there is less congestion, and where food is still cheaper. There they must stay for themselves. The mortality rate among them will be high, but they will be better off than the poor in Moscow and Petrograd, as they know how to accept their lot philosophically.

Move Hospital Patients: The hospitals, public offices, and military part of Kharkov all were evacuated last night. The last corps headquarters moved down the day before yesterday from Bogdanovka, the city again today. Gen. Mal Malovsky and his staff were due to leave the city two days later. The Bolsheviks, who were attempting an encircling movement on the volunteers' army, left, were ten miles from the city at the nearest point.

I learn that Gen. Mal Malovsky has been relieved by Gen. Vranjeli, who is regarded as one of the best of the volunteer leaders. Whether the shift has come too late to save Kharkov only time will tell.

Copyright, 1920, by the Tribune Company. HUGHARET, Jan. 10, via Berlin. Jan. 12.—The predictions regarding the Ukrainians have been fulfilled. The volunteer men summoned by the fugitive President Petlura from their rich farm lands have thrust the Bolsheviks into the northern edge of the Sea of Azov and have cut them in two. One portion is scurrying to doubtful safety in the Caucasus mountains, their progress retarded by the rising of the Kuban Cossacks, still farther in their rear. The other portion is trying to evacuate southern Russia by sea to regain Denikine on the eastern shores of the Black sea.

THE DEBACLE OF DENIKINE'S ARMIES

The chaotic condition in southern Russia makes it impossible to definitely locate the present battle front that Gen. Denikine is presenting to the Bolsheviks. It is definitely known that Red forces have reached Taganrog at the head of the Sea of Azov. This has split Denikine's armies, his left wing being cut off and forced into the Crimean peninsula.

ago was within marching distance of the western frontier of Ukraine, now the ease of his progress only a trap.

Peasants Are Effective: The advance of Denikine's troops which annihilated the Napoleonic armies in the Moscow campaign are not comparable to the swift mobilization of the meagerly armed but numerous peasant army, effected by Petlura and his lieutenants, in the rear of Denikine.

The hope of White Russia found itself in an aroused horde's nest hundreds of miles in extent. In the trail of his flight from Kiev southward he has left tens of thousands of prisoners and vast supplies of food, clothing, and munitions—enough to set the military establishment of the Ukraine reeling on its heels.

The Lenin Bolsheviks are not responsible for the defeat of Denikine. He was quite able to bare for the apocalyptic forays against his northern front by the small Red army. But the Ukrainian people, as hardy and patriotic as a breed as inhabits the modern Mississippi plain, arose in local irregular bands, intercepting his communications and preventing him from profiting from the rich resources of his conquests until his whole organization collapsed like a house of cards.

Captain Mine His Coal: So efficiently did the Ukrainian leaders work that Denikine was not able to mine enough coal in the boundless coal fields of the Donets basin to run his engines, many of which fell into the hands of the Ukrainians.

As Denikine left Kiev the local Ukrainian bands organized him from all sides with lightning intensity. The Bolshevik army trailed along a few miles out of Kiev, but it has been in no general conflict with the White Russian for three months and has not been withdrawn to the Petrograd line.

Every Town Opposed: Every town and village in Ukraine has been practically in a state of siege. The manhood of each particular community was organized into a local militia. Large cannon and sufficient munitions were placed in each town and village and were kept ready for use upon immediate notice. As soon as a moving army appeared in the vicinity the population sprang to arms. If the approaching army was one allied to Petlura, it was permitted to enter and requisition supplies. If it was Bolshevik or friendly to Denikine, it was warned away. When Petlura's army comes into the vicinity, the local soldiers turn out and help him, so that his forces are always greatly augmented by the local population.

LEAGUE A PUNY CHILD AT BIRTH, PARIS PROPHECY

Father Away and Nurses Are Skeptical.

BY EDWIN L. JAMES.
Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable. (Copyright, 1920.)

PARIS, Jan. 12.—With the entry into force of the Versailles treaty, interest turns to the league of nations, and one naturally asks the question, What is the status of this great conception?

The outlook at this time is not encouraging. It is true that the league will be born next Friday, when the executive council will hold its first meeting, but the absence of the father at the birth of the child threatens the life of the infant.

It promises to be very puny in its first days. The league of nations was planned as something infinitely bigger than the treaty of Versailles; it strikes up now as something much smaller.

While it could not have been foreseen by him, when President Wilson died the covenant of the league up to the Versailles treaty, he did that which is responsible for the meeting which will take place in Paris Friday. For there can be little doubt that if the league and treaty were not intertwined that meeting would not take place. When it does, it will be because the league is needed to get the treaty into effect.

It will not be the most important tribunal in that task. It will be, at least as far as one can see today, less powerful than the reparations commission, less powerful than the coordinating committee, less powerful than the international mission headed by Marshal Foch.

But the league will start Friday. It will start life without the confidence of those who will sit about the green-covered tables at the French ministry of foreign affairs. It will start life without the confidence of those nations which will not be represented Friday. But the spark of life will be there.

Need America to Grow Up: Whether that spark will be fanned into something bigger depends upon one nation—America. America made possible the victory of the cause of democracy, and America alone can make possible the real league of nations. If she comes into the league in a whole-hearted way, the thing will grow into something worth while. If she deserts the league, it will exist in its present form only as an instrument for enforcing the Versailles treaty. America is the one country that can save the league of nations.

And there cannot be indefinite delay. In six months it may be too late. Six months may do the allies' nations, forced by the needs of the hour, formed into new alliances which cannot but hamper their hearty and impartial participation in the league.

STEAMER WITH 565 ON BOARD SINKS IN STORM
PARIS, Jan. 12.—The French steamer Afrique, bound from Bordeaux to Dakar, sank in the Bay of Biscay this morning after a struggle to keep afloat since last Saturday, when it sprang a leak during a storm.

The Afrique carried 165 passengers, including 125 colored French colonials, and a crew of about 100. The steamer Ceylan picked up two of the Afrique's boats, with twenty-five occupants. Some rats with survivors also were seen after the Afrique went down.

Two ocean going tugs from Rochefort stood by for several hours last night and attempted to take the sinking steamer into the L'Appalois, roving against a driving hurricane, with a terrific sea running.

WILSON OPENS LEAGUE TO ALL EXCEPT HIMSELF

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—President Wilson today issued the call for the first meeting of the council of the league of nations, to be held at Paris at 10:30 A. M. Friday.

It was directed to the ambassadors of the nations which have become a party to the exchange of ratifications of the treaty of Versailles and will not be made public until it has been transmitted by them to their governments.

The call, which was very brief, was issued by the president in accord with the terms of the treaty. The United States will not be represented at the meeting of the council, which is expected to provide for the setting up of a number of committees, immediate creation of which to carry out certain provisions of the treaty is mandatory.

All There but Uncle Sam: PARIS, Jan. 12.—(Havas.)—At the meeting of the executive council of the league of nations which is to be held in the ministry of foreign affairs Jan. 16 the participating nations will be represented as follows:

France—Leon Bourgeois, former premier.
Great Britain—Earl Curzon of Kedleston, foreign secretary.
Italy—Signor Scialoja, foreign minister.
Belgium—Paul Hymans, foreign minister.
Spain—Count Quiroga de Leon, ambassador to France.
Greece—Eleftherios Venizelos, premier.
Japan—Viscount Chino, ambassador to Great Britain.
Brazil—Dr. Gustavo da Cunha, ambassador to France.

Marshal Foch, it is understood, has been agreed upon by France, Great Britain, and Italy as the military director of the league of nations, with supervising the execution of the peace treaty. Not only will he be consulted on all measures taken, but will be authorized to take the initiative in proposing whatever he deems necessary.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Decision to withdraw the American troops from Siberia upon the completion of the repatriation of the Czech-Slovak forces next month has been reached by the American government.

The troops were sent to Siberia in accord with an agreement between the United States, Japan, and the soviet powers to aid the Czechs and protect the Siberian railroad and Japan has been notified by the United States of the cancellation of that agreement so far as it affects the presence of an American military expedition.

Had Comeback to Return: When the Czechs have been removed the American railroad commission, headed by John F. Stevens, which has been in Russia since before the fall of the former czar's government, will leave Vladivostok for home and the American soldiers under Maj. Gen. ASSEMBLY BEATS VOTE TO RESEAT N. Y. SOCIALISTS

Resolution to Reconsider
Is Lost by 33 to 71.

BULLETIN.

New York, Jan. 12.—Four squads of department of justice agents and detectives of the police bomb squad tonight scoured Greater New York City for "Reds" who eluded the federal dragnet during the recent raid. Fifty arrests were made, including John Darkine, who is alleged to be the secretary of a local branch of the Communist party.

ABANDON, N. Y., Jan. 12.—An attempt to reseat the five suspended Socialist members of the assembly failed tonight. Assemblyman Charles D. Donohue of New York, the Democratic leader, moved reconsideration of the vote by which the suspending resolution was adopted, but the motion was lost, 33 to 71.

Mr. Donohue first introduced a resolution calling upon the assembly to allow the Socialists to resume their seats until such time as that body might by a proper vote decide the charges contained in the preamble of the Adler resolution by which they were barred from further proceedings last Wednesday.

Motion Out of Order.

Speaker Sweet ruled that the resolution was not in order, in that under the rules only reconsideration of the vote on the Adler resolution could the question be brought before the house.

"The inference has gone abroad throughout the nation," Mr. Donohue said, "that the men who have been indicted by a resolution presented by the majority leader, have been convicted before they have had an opportunity to be heard."

"If a mistake had been made in denying them seats in this body, every member ought to be enough of a man to stand up and say so."

With the exception of eleven New York City Republicans, those supporting the Donohue motion were Democrats.

Hughes Hears Protest.

Leading members of the New York Bar association, the trustees of the New York City club, and the trustees of the Citizens union united today in voting condemnation of the action of the assembly in suspending the Socialists.

At the same time representatives of more than a hundred labor and social organizations pledged the support of their bodies in the fight to reinstate the Socialist legislators at a mass meeting held under the auspices of the Socialist party tonight.

The announcement of a combination of $10,000 by the Abolitionist Clothing Workers of America.

Bar Association Acts.

The first protest of the day against the action of the assembly which will be offered at the annual meeting of the bar association tomorrow night, and which is sponsored by Charles E. Hughes, Charles S. Whitman, George W. Wickham, Louis Marshall, Morgan J. O'Brien, Henry L. Stimson, Herbert L. Parsons, and Ogden L. Mills.

This resolution denounces the suspension of the five assemblymen as a "betrayal of the very foundations of representative government."

REDS PRODUCE LIBERTY BONDS TO KEEP LIBERTY

Alleged Reds dug into their secret hiding places for cash and Liberty bonds yesterday, for yesterday was the day set by Judge Hugo Pan for preliminary hearings on all arrests made by State's Attorney Macley Hoynes and his staff.

Julius Griebel, L. W. W. and Communist, produced $5,000; Thomas D. Whitehead, general secretary and treasurer of the L. W. W., brought in $1,000 in cash and Liberty bonds; and Charles D. Krumholz added another $1,000. The money was given in custody of the clerk of the court.

All preliminary hearings were continued until Jan. 22.

William Brown, wealthy socialist, arms for the Communist Labor party, probably will be arrested some time today, it was declared last night. His case has been under consideration for some time, and an early indictment is expected.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

(Washington Bureau of The Tribune.)

The United States has formally notified Japan that the American expeditionary forces in Siberia will be withdrawn at an early date.

TOMMYROT SAYS WOOD OF RUMOR HE WILL RESIGN

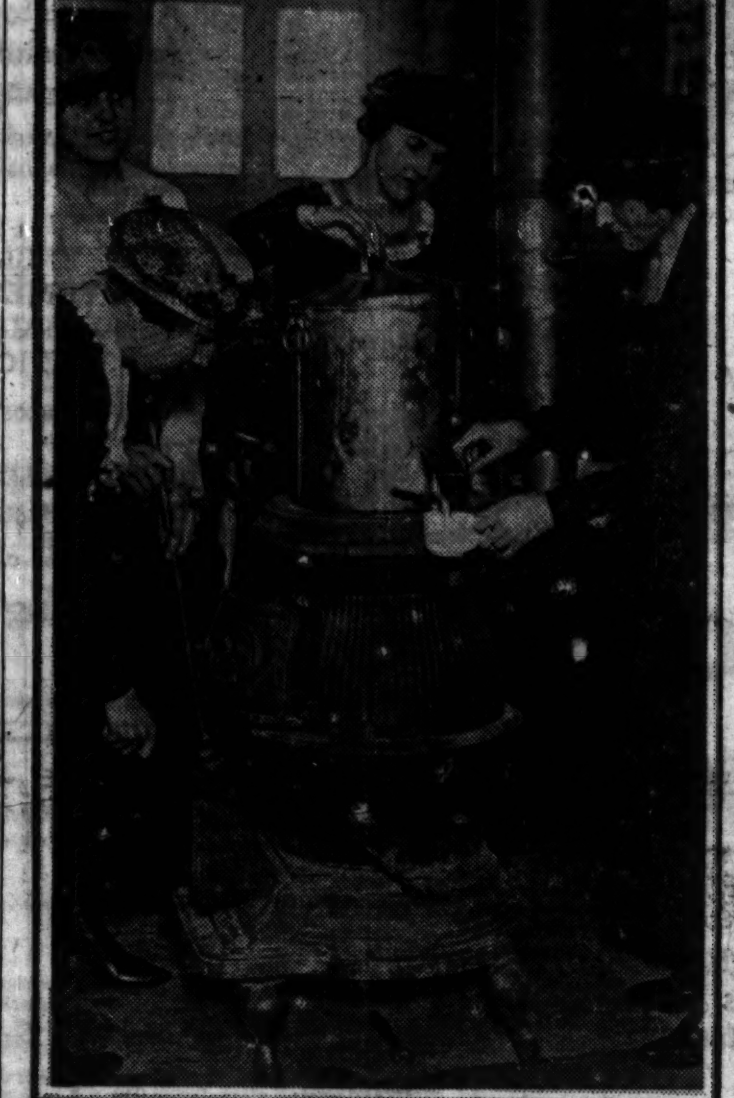

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Major Gen. Leonard Wood reached here today to participate in a war department conference on the welfare of the army. He refused absolutely to talk politics except to deny a printed report that he was soon to resign to devote his attention to the campaign.

"Tommyrot; never heard of it," was all he would say.

Some of Gen. Wood's political friends were willing to talk politics, however, and Secretary Baker took advantage of the opportunity to reiterate that it would be unnecessary for Gen. Wood to resign to run for president.

BROWN'S WIDOW UNDER ARREST FOR PERJURY

Mount Clemens, Mich., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Mrs. Ruth Prevost Brown, 18 year old wife of J. Stanley Brown, who was found with four bullet holes in his head on a lonely country road Dec. 24, was taken into custody tonight. A charge of perjury will be preferred by Attorney General Alvin J. Grossbeck of Michigan, who is conducting a grand jury investigation of the murder.

Ted Wilde, named by Stanley Brown as a co-respondent in a divorce suit, declared he and Mrs. Brown went to Detroit last Thursday and that she returned with him in his machine. Mrs. Brown declared she drove to Detroit, but returned alone on an interurban car. The motorman and conductor of the car on which Mrs. Brown said she had returned declared she had not been on the car.

John Bannow, a local druggist, testified Mrs. Brown asked him for a deadly poison "so that she could get her husband out of the way."

With the order to place Mrs. Brown in custody came one prohibiting relatives or attorneys from interviewing her at the local jail.

The national defense committee is enforcing compulsion of the military service and has issued a manifesto against foreign intervention in any form."

INSISTS EUROPE FEED AUSTRIANS IN THE FUTURE

Hoover Says America
Must Stop Work.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Herbert Hoover told the house ways and means committee today that the United States should serve notice to the world that this government, after the immediate emergency, can no longer extend relief to Austria.

While it was the duty of the United States to come to Austria's relief this year, he said, European nations responsible for her downfall by the treaty terms should bear the burden thereafter.

"Through the political arrangements made by the treaty the agricultural area upon which Austria was dependent was taken away from her in Czechoslovakia, and Serbia," Mr. Hoover said. "Austria cannot possibly obtain from her own resources more than enough food to supply her people for three months out of the year. It is difficult to know the solution. What was done was not on any American inspiration."

Doomed to a Poorhouse.

Representative Copley of Illinois interrupted to refer to a remark attributed to Mr. Hoover, that "Austria is doomed to a perpetual poorhouse."

"That is my firm belief," said Mr. Hoover. "The situation today is absolutely desperate."

"If a political situation is to be created that makes Austria the recipient of the world it is not the United States that should be called upon for the perpetual charity," he added. "I think the United States should do it this one time, and notice to the world that this is the last time, and that if other nations want to be responsible for maintaining the present political conditions then they should bear the responsibility."

Some Surprises

Perhaps you think a barn contains no food but hay and oats, and perhaps a little corn. Would you believe you could get waffles, with maple syrup from Vermont, tea, coffee, chocolate, sandwiches, or a regular table d'hôte dinner in a barn? You can.

The Evanston Smith College circle, doing its best to help Alma Mater get 4,000,000 silver shekels, has turned the barn of George S. Reynolds at 1666 Sheridan road, Evanston, into "The Barn Swallow," where you can get a swallow of most anything delicious in the way of food.

The place opened yesterday. Admission was a dish towel, a bar of soap, and a quarter of a dollar for afternoon tea, with stalls and everything, a benevolent colored cook, and a dozen or more waitresses—among them Mrs. Will M. Hough, president of the circle; Miss Rachel Embree, Miss Gertrude Gladwin, Mrs. W. F. Abbott, Mrs. J. E. Blunt Jr., Mrs. F. Davis, Miss Theodore Platt, and Miss Helen Whitman.

"The Barn Swallow" opens to the general public today—especially to Northwestern university students and motorists coming from north, about town. Everything has been donated and all profits go to the $4,000,000 fund.

which Mr. Hoover is in charge. He said it was expected that from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000 would be handled monthly through the sale of these drafts, representing that much food sent to European countries.

"The situation is so improved now that all except a small portion of Europe will be able to feed itself," said Mr. Hoover. "So that with only $100,000,000 or $150,000,000, which we are confronting only an echo of the situation which we had last year."

Muskogee, Okla., Jan. 12.—At least 300 cases of a strange malady, declared to be similar to that which has been reported from Skiatook and other Oklahoma towns, exist in Muskogee, according to doctors who met here today and discussed means of combating the disease. No deaths have been reported here.

FORMER KAISER TO ESCAPE TRIAL FOR WAR GUILT

Lloyd George's Persistent Camouflage.

BY FLOYD GIBBONS.

(Chicago Tribune Staff Writer.)

(Copyright, 1920, by The Tribune Company.)

(By Special Cable.)

PARIS, Jan. 12.—The former Kaiser will never be tried by the allies, and it is doubtful if informal requisition for his extradition will ever be presented to Holland.

This seems positive after a diligent inquiry in best informed circles.

Mr. Lloyd George is the only person who even pretends to maintain any interest in trying the former Kaiser, and from certain quarters in a position to know I learn the British prime minister is going ahead with preparations for the extradition of W. Hohenzollern, although he knows full well it will never come to pass.

Promises to People.

During the war both the British and French people were often assured by the leaders that the guilty Kaiser would be hanged as soon as the war was won. The Belgians never bothered much about William, and the Italians had no antipathy for him.

What the peace conference started President Wilson and Secretary Lansing both stated the former Kaiser could not be tried. Mr. Lloyd George applied the strongest pressure, recalling how he publicly promised his constituents to try the war lord, and finally Mr. Lansing agreed that the United States would participate, but he recommended an international tribunal merely attach the stigma of responsibility for starting the world war on the former Kaiser and to make it a sort of moral punishment and to let it go at that.

Japs Break Ice.

Meanwhile the Japanese, who had been keeping mum, broke the silence by a statement that no trial of the former Kaiser would be held on Belgian soil, and the Belgians took no interest in Mr. Lloyd George's plans for bringing Mr. Hohenzollern to justice.

The Italians refused to have anything to do with the preparations. Gradually Premier Clemenceau's interest cooled, and he finally swung around to oppose the trial and hoped the whole matter would be dropped.

Lloyd George in Hole.

But Mr. Lloyd George had been set a hole by the Northcliffe press, which had dug a man trap for the prime minister during the war, telling him on to commit himself to promise to the former Kaiser would be tried and hanged.

The entire English aristocracy is unalterably opposed to trying the former Kaiser and King George personally disapproves, naturally enough. Eager to keep his record square, however, Lloyd George will make a demand upon Holland but wants the other allied powers to put pressure on the Dutch, telling them not to surrender the Kaiser and they will back the Dutch up against the British. The other allies, however, don't see the need of playing this involved game.

Lloyd George will be checked in his persistence to try the former Kaiser by being forced to agree to have the trials of the 400 other accused German officials and officers tried first. In this way the other allies hope to tire out the public with long trials about the forgotten war and to give the British prime minister a chance to extricate himself from the pledge made.

VOLCANOES WIPE OUT MORE TOWNS

Mexico City, Jan. 12.—Upon his arrival at Vera Cruz last night Col. Silviano Garcia, commander of the Quintana Roo garrison, who was injured in the earthquake, reported that 190 soldiers perished under the ruins, and that the villages of Chichotla, Huastlan, Teopam, Comahuacan, Aguacapan, and other smaller places near the Puebla frontier have totally disappeared.

Col. Garcia said that the crater, Huastlan, at the foot of the volcano of Orizaba, spouted quantities of mud. Refugees from the San Miguel volcano district Sunday night reported that the crater was still emitting lava and boiling water.

WHILE IN TREATY OVERTURE MADE BY DEMOCRATS

Republican Senators See
No Real Compromise.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Suspicion began to grow among Republicans today that Democratic overtures in the peace treaty negotiations were inspired not so much by a desire to bring about ratification of the treaty as by a desire to maneuver the Democrats into a position of fairly ready acceptance of the treaty before the coming of the peace conference.

Where They All Agree.

Weekend powwows of the Democratic senators have brought them into unanimous accord with William Jennings Bryan on one point, namely, that it will be a most fortunate circumstance if the Democratic party definitely unloads the responsibility for holding up the treaty before the 1920 campaign.

By these weekend get-togethers at Bryan's house, an unwillingness among the Democrats to openly bolt Mr. Wilson.

Any compromise that the Democrats in the senate agree upon will be submitted to Mr. Wilson's scrutiny before the compromise will permit it to come to a showdown. Even Senator Hitchcock admitted today that it would be a very bad thing if the Democrats in the senate should join in the ratification of the treaty only to find it blocked at the White House.

Let G. O. P. Take Blame.

It would be much better if they could be able to say to the country that the Democrats had not been able to ratify the treaty, but that the Republicans had.

Senator King of Utah, Democrat, indicated that the idea of reservations was not original with Mr. Wilson's treaty, but that the treaty should be ratified with reservations.

Senator Ashurst of Arizona, Democrat, said:

"I believe the treaty will be ratified, but I think it will be ratified soon because William Jennings Bryan is so town."

BRYAN IN NEW APPEAL

(Omaha, Neb., Jan. 12.—) Compromise in the peace treaty was strongly urged tonight by William J. Bryan in a public address in which he declared that the Democratic party as more competent than the Republicans to solve the nation's great economic problems.

Bryan's address at the city auditorium was heard by 4,500 people.

Again denying there had been "split" between him and President Wilson over the treaty, Mr. Bryan praised the work of the president at home and abroad.

His work in the peace treaty, he declared, could not afford to delay ratification for fourteen months until the peace conference could be decided by the people.

It would be a bad policy, he thought, for the Democrats to make a fight on the theory that the minority of the United States senate had a right to stonewall the treaty's terms.

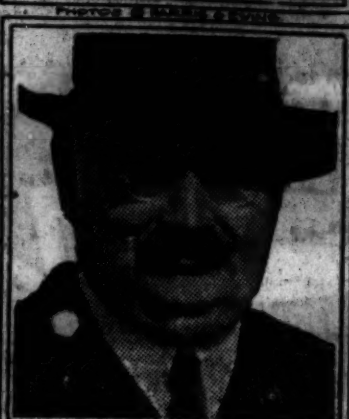

But, then, Let People Change.

"If, however," it became absolutely necessary to carry any of the treaty's terms to the people, then the Democrats could appeal to the people to help put back the part of the treaty that had been left out. In that way, he said, the Democrats would be able to go before the people and tell them that the Republicans already had prevented ratification, and would have delayed it for fourteen months more, not that the Democrats would not stand for it.

Referring to article ten, Mr. Bryan said he did not want the Democratic party to go before the people on any LUDWIG C. A. K. MARTENS.

SANTERI NUORTEVA.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—A request for more time to prepare for his testimony was asked today by Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, self-styled "ambassador of Soviet Russia," through his counsel, Thomas W. Hardwick, former senator from Georgia, who appeared before the senate foreign relations subcommittee with Santeri Nuorteva, secretary to Martens. As a consequence, the subcommittee's hearing will not get under way before Wednesday, and possibly later, as Martens will be the first witness.

Chairman Moses said the subcommittee would ask the senate for authority to employ counsel, and indicated the department of justice would be asked to make a detail, probably Assistant Attorney General Garvan, who has conducted the investigation leading to the nationwide roundup of radicals.

Issue that would impair the rights of congress to declare war.

"The Democrats can't afford to tie the hands of congress with a moral obligation," he said.

Mr. Bryan declared the most important part of the league covenant was that which provided for nine months' investigation before nations could go to war.

BUCKET SHOPS

WON BY GRAFT?

New York, Jan. 12.—References to rumors that Wall street bucket shops were paying the district attorney's office for protection created a stir today at the trial of George Graham Rice, broker, accused of grand larceny.

"The defense," produced canceled checks representing payments of $35,000,000 by Rice in two years for stock to support his claim that he did so much business that checks for $721 sent him by Rudolph W. Hartman of Manhattan, O., to purchase stock were overlooked. Hartman is the complainant in the case, alleging that he received nothing for the money he sent to Rice.

AIRPLANE SHOW POINTS NEED OF LANDING FIELD

Trade to Fly Over the City
Unless Lack Is Met.

BY EYE WITNESS.

Even the machines of the aerial mail service have been ordered of Grant park.

Not many persons in Chicago care, some do.

If the current airplane show at the Coliseum has done nothing else, it has done something big in bearing in on the minds of important people the fact that Chicago cannot function competently in the rapidly developing American aerial transport situation until it provides the service with a municipal landing field that will be a benefit instead of a menace to the community.

Costly Site Not Necessary.

A safe and commodious field that will enable aviation to get easily and quickly to the passenger aircraft next summer for the brief, exhilarating flight to the east and west shore summer resorts, need mean that some costly site near the center of town will have to be built over with hangars and approaches.

But it does mean that the passenger carrier ought to be able, I to come from their hangars and shops in the environs to a point, reasonably convenient to downtown, to pick up their passengers.

The system that can be worked out is identical with the one employed by railroads entering large cities. The stations for delivering and receiving passengers are fairly convenient to downtown areas. The switching yards and shops are remote.

With such a system the aircraft passenger service would not need all doors to pick up the traffic in, any more than the steam and street railroads do.

Chicagoans Buy $10,000 Plane.

What with the visualizing and crystallizing of expert and lay opinion on such urgent problems in the aviation situation as this problem of landing fields, and what with the large volume of business and attendance, the Coliseum show took on extraordinarily live aspects with the opening of the week. Sunday's attendance was 4,000. Yesterday's sales were brisk and some of them big. A Chicagoan living in Lake Forest bought for $10,000 the "model 50, flying boat limousine de luxe" exhibited by the Aeromarine Plane and Motor company. The company wouldn't tell the bird's name.

The biggest sale of the day was $50,000 by the United Aircraft Inc., to J. Johnson of the Aero Transport company, Denver. "Bird" made good with a deposit of $10,000. "Gull" was a "sneak" coupe. "A three seater that they call 'the honey moon express,'" was sold for $20,000 to G. C. Blake, an oil man from Oklahoma. Then along came J. B. Hume, a broker from the Rocky mountains and bought six Curtiss O-1s at $3,000 each for the sightseeing. He is in Colorado, Wyoming, and Nebraska.

Take Up Problem of Landings.

While these sales, and many more, were being made, the Midwest Valley Aviation Club association, with delegates representing twenty-five states, buckled down to the urgent problem which this second aero show in the world's history optimistically for American aviation—namely, the problem of landing fields. This association is working along these lines:

1. The motor is not yet foolproof. Therefore numerous landing fields all the way across and up and down the country are essential to safe flying because they will permit speedy landings when man and motor are in trouble.

2. Intensified aviation development may wisely and with advantage to all concerned be concentrated in the Midwest valley, with Chicago as G. H. Q. The navy has the coast, the army the frontiers and the islands. Give the flying arm of the service the greatest valley in the world.

3. With the prompt and extensive

VALLEY AIR CLUBS URGE NATIONAL AERO DEPARTMENT

RESOLUTIONS recommending the concentration of all air activities—military, naval, and civil—within a single department of the government, to be organized with powers to equal with those of the departments of war, navy, and commerce, were adopted yesterday by delegates from twenty-five states attending the first convention of the Midwest Valley Aviation Clubs' association in the City Hall Square building. The resolutions leave the direction of the aerial mail service to the postoffice department.

Otto Fraeger, second assistant postmaster general, representing the postoffice department, deplored the inactivity of the United States in developing aviation along commercial lines. He also outlined the plans of the government for extending the aerial mail service from New York to San Francisco, via Chicago, for the establishment of a line between Washington and Atlanta, for the inauguration of service between St. Paul and Minneapolis and St. Louis by way of Chicago.

"But," Mr. Fraeger said, "the $550,000 appropriated by congress is just enough to operate the New York-Chicago and New York-St. Louis lines for one year."

The establishment of a string of municipal landing fields throughout the country was urged by both Mr. Fraeger and Col. J. C. Morrow, director of air service for the central department of the army.

opening of landing fields, the military, postal, and commercial departments of aviation will be instantly linked up, to the advantage of all three, because all three will receive a simultaneous impetus that will aid both the art and the industry of aviation in our country to overhaul the tremendous start which governmental patronage has given aviation in Europe.

Germany Pushes Aviation.

In that connection, here is a sweet thought:

Germany, during the appalling hunger-mugger that followed the armistice, and almost disrupted the realm, has been beating us in aviation development.

It happened thus:

There was a joker in the armistice terms. Those terms, in effect, forbade Germany to build any aircraft until six months after the signing of the treaty of peace. So for the best part of a year Germany has been manufacturing spare parts, engines, and fueling, and storing them in Germany or flying them to Switzerland and Holland.

Meanwhile our government has 11,000 Liberty motors "in oil," and won't sell fifty-two of them to Glenn L. Martin, who has an order from China for twenty bombers at $50,000 each. The bulk on the floor of the Coliseum is that Washington told Martin that it wouldn't spare him fifty-two out of the 11,000 Liberty motors "in oil." I love that phrase—because of a "certain emergency" that might develop to the south of us.

But, said Martin, "you have no the planes to go with the motors. You are saving part of a thing that will not fly without the other part. Meanwhile I can't take advantage of a million dollars' worth of Chinese orders, but the Vickers-Vimy people in England can because their government is encouraging them to reach out for foreign trade."

Then Martin went off in a corner of the Coliseum and said: "our government reasons like a crab—backward."

This will be "Rickenbacker day" at the show.

CARPENTER SAYS HE WILL JAIL TILTERS OF LID

"Hip Liquor" Is Declared
Contraband.

Blue Monday for J. Barleycorn's mourners:

Judge George A. Carpenter pronounced heavy fines and prison sentences for dry lid tilters convicted of violations after the prohibition enforcement act went into effect last October.

George K. Murdock, special government investigator of booze selling and revenue booze graft, returned from Washington to demand grand jury indictments in the pending liquor cases.

Federal officers received orders to include "hip liquor" in the air tight ban beginning Jan. 16.

One hundred and fifty expert investigators of the new government prohibition constabulary were told to "shoot when necessary" in order to keep the middle west bone dry under national prohibition.

It required Judge Carpenter's grim promise to "go the limit" with recent lid tilters to totally eclipse the last ray of hope held by persistent liquor runners and wet adherents. Several bootleggers and "cheating" saloonkeepers on trial during the last two weeks drew $100 fines and admonitions to "sin no more." More than 100 saloonkeepers whose trials are pending took comfort in these precedents.

"The punishment in these cases,"

NOSING BOARD TO SPY ON BREATHS SCENTED BY RUM

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Watch your breath or the "nosing committee" may get you.

The "nosing committee" is the newest adjunct of national prohibition; a committee to spy on the drinkers of intoxicants through olfactory experts that can sense liquor a yard away.

Such committees, it has been reported here, are now being used by some of the district attorneys in the south.

Attorney General Clegg of Chattanooga, Tenn., says that in Jacksonville, Fla., indictments have been based on the testimony of "nosing committees" at social functions. The Chattanooga attorney general's office, during Christmas week, gave out this statement to the local press:

"It is getting to be a frequent occasion for young men, said to be from the best families, to go or come from dances in an intoxicated condition. If young men—or the old ones, either—haven't sense enough to profit by the occurrence in New York and Massachusetts, when seventy-one died from poisoned liquor, then I will take drastic steps and make them do so."

Men reported to the district attorney general's office are summoned before the grand jury and compelled to tell where they got it.

said Judge Carpenter after filing R. A. Auker, proprietor of a café at Kinzie and Clark streets, and his bartender, Joseph Ryan, $100 and costs each for selling whisky last August. "is apparently lenient. In several cases handled recently the same conditions might be charged."

"The fact is that the standard time prohibition was somewhat vague before the prohibition enforcement act became effective in October. Offenders after that date who are convicted in this court will be dealt with severely. They will receive heavy fines and jail sentences."

DRAINAGE BOARD LOTH TO RELEASE OWN IDENTITY

Paullin Sees an Effort to Sidetrack Unity Plan.

Storm clouds are now muttering in the drainage board over one of the most ancient and respected of Chicago's projected reforms, consolidation of taxing bodies in Cook county. Trustee George W. Paullin announced his suspicion yesterday that the old drainage board is being unstoppered for possible use on a resolution he put in last week calling on the constitutional convention at Springfield to provide for the merging of the sanitary district and other taxing corporations into a unit with the city of Chicago.

Three years ago President Charles H. Sergel, soon after taking office, made a demand for consolidation forthwith under the present constitution, and Mr. Paullin was appointed to draft a reply showing the impossibilities of such a step. After denoting the barriers he stated that if a constitutional convention were called it should be asked to provide for unification.

Sidetracked by Majority.
After the delegates assembled at the statehouse a week ago Mr. Paullin followed this up with a call for action, but amid the trustees seemed to have diminished. Instead of putting the resolution through, the "in-the-middle" majority in the drainage board shot it into the judiciary committee. Yesterday the subject came up in an oblique way in the finance committee. An item of $100 for some purpose or other was up and the factions were fighting over whether it should be passed.

"O. well," President Sergel said, "we'll probably have a couple of new trustees next year and will need a couple of new stars."

"If I have my way," intoned Paullin, "there won't be any trustees elected at all next election. We'll have consolidation."

Although in political campaigns this sentiment for years has always been good for three cheers, more or less rumbling, it failed to shake any applause loose from the trustees. Last night the "fighting minority" dropped its suggestions.

More Employes to Go.

The ax which a week ago lopped off thirty-five heads in various departments of the sanitary district has just started to swing. President Sergel announced last night. He added that inasmuch as the board had approved his recommendation for abandoning bridge and highway building for the present, a large number of employes of that department "would be unnecessary and would be dismissed."

"It's a move to save the taxpayers money," he explained. "Of course it will be necessary to increase the force in the sanitary division, as my recommendation for extension of the district's sanitary development also was approved by the board."

"It's a move to throw dust in the public's eyes, to confuse the crowd and introduce spolia politica into the sanitary district," said Trustee Paullin, who was chairman of the employment committee until President Sergel obtained the balance of power in the board. "Mr. Sergel talks about cutting down expense by discharging men from the bridge and road division. He doesn't tell the public that as soon as he has completed his raid and cut the department to the bone, he and his followers will suddenly discover a need for road and bridge work that will enable them to fill the jobs with their henchmen."

Appropriations Cut.

At a meeting of the finance committee the police department appropriation was cut $2,835, the board of trustees' fund $4,345, and the treasury fund $50.

The committee decided to make a flat salary increase for employes instead of installing a bonus system. There were charges during the meeting that "certain trustees had solicited employes to ask salary increases in order that jobs might be made worth while in spolia politica."

FORCE CHILDREN TO LEARN WORK, BASIC LAW IDEA

Delegate Wants It in New Constitution.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 12.—Every child has a right to an education, and I desire that the new Illinois constitution shall recognize and guarantee that right," said Delegate Rodney H. Brandon of Moline, who will start the battle for his proposal tomorrow afternoon. He wants a committee on charities and corrections and will appear before the rules committee to ask its creation.

"If the rules committee turns me down tomorrow, I shall appeal to the convention," continued Delegate Brandon. "I have talked with nearly fifty delegates and each one favors the idea, although some don't like my language. About the wording I'm not particular, but I want the constitution to guarantee such education as will make every boy and girl self-supporting and a good citizen."

Would Refuse Training.

"The present constitution appears to me to give control of education to the parent and I want the state to say that every one must have sufficient training to be self-supporting. A boy trained by his parents at present must throw a brick through a window in order to get into a state school where he is certain to get some training. That is wrong, and I'll present the subject to the rules committee tomorrow afternoon."

Eugene H. Dupes and Col. Abel Davis of Chicago have notified President Woodward they will object to the rule providing for a session of the convention at 5 o'clock every Monday. Their position is that if the delegates want to work Mondays, the session should start at 10 in the morning; and that if they don't want to work on that day why have a rule for a session at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, even if it is intended that it shall not be observed.

Expect Discussion of Rules.

Leo Mighell of Aurora said today that he is well pleased with the proposed rules for the constitutional convention, but the committee on rules expects the discussion will take more than one day. If that view proves correct it will be Thursday or later before the convention adopts its program for action.

A reading of the tentative draft shows that they were taken almost exclusively from the rules of the conventions of Ohio, Michigan, New York and Massachusetts when the text did not come from the last Illinois convention or the Illinois legislative rules.

The importance of the adoption of the rules is apparent when it is recalled that one of the rules requires a two-thirds vote of all delegates to alter or amend the regulations after they are once approved, unless the committee on rules suggest the change.

Delegates Rent Springfield Homes. Several delegates have indicated that they intend to do much work in Springfield. Walter H. Wilson and Rufus Dawes of Chicago have jointly rented a house. Charles Hamilton has a house out on Williams boulevard and Col. Abel Davis signed a lease for a house today. Admiral Moore of Decatur plans to live with his family at the Leland hotel and the nature of the reservation of Leo Mighell of Aurora indicates that he too will probably be a permanent resident of the same hotel during the convention.

Au Trade-Mark

The French law requires that when a partner whose name is part of the firm name dies, the firm name be immediately changed. For a long time there was a great puzzle as to how it was possible to perpetuate the name of the company. A clever lawyer found out that if the business was dedicated to something, either an idea or a disembodied spirit or a saint, the title could be made permanent.

That is the reason why you see the word "Au" "To the"—before many firm names—"Au Bon Marche" (To the good bargains)—"Au Samaritain" (To the Samaritan)—"Au Louvre" (To the Louvre), so that never mind who runs these shops the title is perpetual.

Fortunately there is no American law that limits a trade-mark to the life of any individual or firm.

Some trade-marks represent the lifework of three generations.

NEW STATE TAX BODY LISTS BIG CORPORATIONS

Pullman Assessment Put
at $8,000,000.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—The new state tax commission today announced the net capital stock assessments which it has made against the leading Illinois corporations. It was the first assessment made by the commission.

Comparisons between the assessments and those made by the former board of equalization are difficult, owing to the fact that the law has changed the basis from one-third to one-half of the "fair cash value" and has because there was this year an increase in the tangible property assessment against the corporations.

Pullman Assessment $8,000,000.

In a general way the commission has adopted the policy followed by the board of equalization when its capital stock committee was under the chairmanship of Louis F. Hirschelmer of Pittsfield. It decreed the assessments as made by William F. Malone, whose faction was in control of the board when the legislature abolished it and whose last year figures against the Pullman company are still in litigation.

In making assessments against corporations doing an interstate business result is given for taxes paid in other states and in a general way the extensions allowed under the former policy are given. The Pullman assessment, which has been the center of controversy, is fixed at $8,000,000. Last year the assessment, which has been contested, was fixed at $11,567,421.

List Showing Changes.

Other Cook county assessments announced were:

Peoples Gaslight and Coke company—Assessed last year at $4,951,447; cut to $1,000,000.

Commonwealth Edison company—Last year, $3,200,000; raised to $6,000,000.

Chicago Telephone company—No record of assessment last year; this year, $70,000.

Chicago Railway company—Last year, $2,100,000; raised to $2,375,000.

Chicago City Railway company—Reduced from $2,075,000 last year to $900,000.

Central Illinois Public Service company—Assessed last year as Cook county corporation at $5,000; changed to Chicago corporation and assessed at $50,000.

Calumet-South Chicago railroad—Reduced from $110,000 to $350,000.

Brevort hotel—Raised from $5,000 last year to $120,000.

TEACHERS TELL CONVENTION OF SALARY NEEDS

Plans were mapped yesterday at a meeting of the Teachers' federation to impress upon delegates to the constitutional convention and members of the state legislature the immediate financial needs of teachers of Illinois. Pamphlets were distributed showing that the cost of living has increased 249 per cent since 1897, while the present salaries are in advance of only 196 per cent. The teachers are asking an increase in salary of 303 per cent over 1897.

A minimum wage of $1,200 and a maximum of $2,500 is asked.

Miss Margaret Haley, business agent of the Teachers' federation, declared the organization is endeavoring to enlighten Chicago on the educational crisis which now exists.

"We are asking the board of education to place teachers on the same scale with maximum and minimum salaries. At present teachers in Chicago get forty-seven different salaries. If the board grants the maximum salary requested, it would give us a living wage equal to the average cost of living in 1918."

NEW'S KILLING OF GIRL BLAMED ON MAD ANCESTORS

Lawyer Tells Jury He Slew While Insane.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—An impassioned plea for the life of Henry New Jr. was delivered today by Attorney Judd R. Rush.

Rush told the jury that the slayer of Freda Lauer is not to blame for taking her life, for he has a defective brain, and several relatives of his mother, Lillie M. Burger, were insane. The attorney asked the jury to give the case careful consideration as, he said, it is the most important matter they will ever pass upon. The defendant, he said, should always be given the benefit of the presumption of innocence.

"Wept, But He's Insane."

"They say because this man cried and otherwise gave evidence of emotion it proved he had a mind," Rush said. "That doesn't prove anything; the lower animals cry and eat and do such things as that. A dog will cry and a snake or a toad will eat."

He dwelt at length upon the strength of the propagator instinct present, he said, in every man. In court, Miss Lauer New was merely carrying out an elementary natural impulse. He said that next to self-preservation this instinct is the strongest.

Quotes Defense Witnesses.

Rush insisted that the peculiar, particular attention to the depositions of persons expressing the opinion that New was either insane or irrational.

Rush insisted that the peculiar conduct of the defendant in court—his habit of staring straight ahead and remaining motionless—was natural with him.

"It is not a pose," he shouted.

HOYNE OUSTED AS COUNTY LAWYER; H. N. BELL HIRED

Prosecutor Also Jogged on Election Cases.

State's Attorney Hoyne yesterday lost his job as legal adviser to Cook county in all matters outside the collection of delinquent taxes and kindred duties. The county board voted to employ Hayden N. Bell as county attorney.

Mr. Hoyne, it is declared, assumed the right to act as counsel for the board soon after he assumed office during the incumbency of A. A. McCormick as board president. The present board came to the conclusion that the state attorney's time is too fully taken up with criminal court matters to permit him to give heed to the special legal needs of the county.

On top of this action was a resolution by Commissioner Frank J. Wilson, which was adopted, directing Mr. Hoyne to get busy and take an active part in pending election contests.

Commissioner Charles N. Goodnow opposed the resolution as a reflection on Mr. Hoyne.

Commissioner Joseph Carolan, supporting the resolution, said the state's attorney should have interested himself in the contests a year ago.

The board decided to sell $2,000,000

COUNTY BOARD VOTES TO PLACE GOAT HERD IN FOREST PRESERVE

GOATS are having a hard time in their efforts to butt into the forest preserve. If yesterday's action by the board of county commissioners means anything, these animals, which are recommended as the source of healthful milk supply for infants and tubercular patients who are wards of the county, may yet find a corral on the preserve.

Several of the commissioners oppose buying a herd, fearing that the animals would clutter up the tracts of open land and forest.

Supporters of the plan, led by Commissioner McKinlay, insist that the maintenance bill would be inconsiderable compared with the benefits afforded to invalids and point to the success of goat ranches abroad. There, in spite of the negative votes of President Heinberg and Commissioner Rudinger, Berg, Ryan, and Wheelan, the board yesterday recommended that the finance committee make provision in the forthcoming county budget for the purchase of a small herd.

worth of the $2,000,000 bonds voted last November for good roads. The successful joint bidders were the Northern Trust Company bank and the bond house of William B. Compton & Co., the price being about $93.10, or $1,982,048 for the series.

The commissioners came to the conclusion it would be wise not to join issues with the Chicago city council constitution committee, but instead to share Cook county's affairs with those of other county and township organizations in the belief this plan will get better results for the county from downstate delegates at the convention.

GLASS AND HAYS QUARREL ABOUT POLITICS BY WIRE

Secretary Denies Use of Loan Names.

LIBY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12.—(Special)—Secretary of Treasury Carter Glass and Will H. Hays, Republican national committee chairman, are engaged in a sharp telegraphic controversy over a statement Mr. Hays was reported to have made in Denver.

Mr. Glass read a dispatch which quoted Mr. Hays as saying that lists of Liberty bond buyers had been used for Democratic propaganda purposes, but that Republicans had been denied access to these rolls. He wired a denial to Mr. Hays, demanding that he prove his statement.

In response, Mr. Hays, among other things, said:

"I did not say that you had furnished the names of all buyers of Liberty bonds for the use of the Democratic committee as a mailing list.

"What I did say and now repeat is that the Democratic administration sent out thousands of tons of propaganda to Liberty bond buyers, food card signers, war workers, etc., during the paper shortage and while limiting the use of paper by the press, and that the large part of it was Democratic political propaganda, and that all of it was paid for by the taxpayers.

"I did say that names were being procured by the Democratic organization by the hundreds of thousands from every available source, and that thousands of letters were being sent out by it daily soliciting money by an office force numbering from 200 to 250, spending hundreds of dollars daily, and that the New York World had published a statement that the Democratic national committee was proposing to raise a fund of $10,000,000.

"What I did not say, then, but to which I now call your attention, is I am reliably informed the Democratic committee has even resorted to drawing drafts on bankers in whose banks government funds are deposited, wiring such bankers that they had already drawn such drafts. I respectfully recommend that you make an inquiry into this situation."

Responding to this message, Secretary Glass said:

"The Liberty loan propaganda charge conveys an implication of gross stupidity, as well as downright dishonesty, upon the part of those managing the Liberty loan organization.

"I resent the imputation as both false and silly.

"I do not know if you, as chairman of the Republican committee, have drawn drafts or otherwise solicited accepted campaign contributions from bankers whose banks happen to hold government funds on deposit; nor do I know anything as to the truth of your accusation in this respect against Mr. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic committee.

"It would not be astonishing to find that both of you have repeatedly done this; hence there can be but one meaning to that part of your dispatch—the covert intimation that the treasury has participated directly or indirectly, by sanction or contributory activity, in the financial schemes of the Democratic national committee. The suggestion is intolerably false."

Y., Jan. 12.—A new governing body to formulate rules for trotting was organized here this afternoon when a committee of six, representing the American Association of Trotting Horse Breeders, voted to break from the American Trotting Association and the National Trotting Association, which have control of the light harness sport in this country.

David N. Look of New York was suggested for president, and an invitation to horsemen to join the new association was issued tonight. An open meeting, at which organization will be undertaken, will be held tomorrow.

Avoid Circuit Stewards.
The breeders, who have been in session here since Saturday night, have been meeting apart from the Grand Circuit stewards, who convened today. The members of the committee are Joseph J. Mooney of Toledo, chairman; former Gov. Horace White of Syracuse; A. H. Cowden of New York; Charles W. Leonard of Boston; Edward A. Tipton of Lexington, Ky.; and David N. Look of New York.

The rules and schedule committee of the Grand Circuit stewards met this afternoon, but took no definite action on a 1920 program.

"Unshackling" Rule Issue.
The stewards will meet in a body tomorrow. Matters before them for consideration other than dates for the ensuing year and the drafting of rules, are the new organization, which asks the support of big line tracks and consideration of the time allowance, or "unshackling," rule, which was direct responsibility for the split in the turf factions.

The "unshackling" rule, as adopted by the national association and intended to be effective on all eastern tracks next summer, provides that a horse which has not equalled or excelled its record in two years may start in the future in the 212 class on mile tracks and 214 on half mile tracks.

ICE STARS OF SEASON ENTERED IN CONTEST FOR SILVER SKATES

With one week remaining before entries close for this season's senior silver skates derby, the junior silver skates derby at Humboldt park Jan. 25, nominations have been received from the cream of the local skating world. Barring accident, the same skaters who have been meeting in the final heats of races held so far this season should fight it out for the beautiful prizes.

With an all-star entry list everything possible is going to be done to give the spectators a good view of the races at all times. Only active officials and skaters who are about to race will be allowed on the ice. The contestants will be called out by heats, and as soon as they have finished will be sent back to the dressing quarters.

Supt. Gruenwald of the West Parks will be asked to prohibit racing on the east lagoon the morning of the derbies. This will be done to allow the skating surface to be scraped.

MILK PRODUCER SPLIT OFFERS PRICE CUT HOPE

Grocers Not Anxious to Tackle Sales.

After the San Francisco plan of lowering the price of milk by direct sale from the farmer to the grocer to the consumer had been buffeted about during the day by retailer and producer a new ray of hope struck the city last night.

It was the announcement that the Milk Producers' association of Belvidere, Ill., had seceded from the county organization and the Milk Producers' Cooperative association and was ready to market its product independently.

Sol Westerfeld, spokesman for the Chicago Retail Grocers' association and chairman of the retail food distributors' executive committee, who had taken a stand against the direct marketing idea, admitted the new phase might make the San Francisco plan, which cut the price of milk from 16 to 13 cents, feasible to a limited degree.

Calls Supply Limited.

"The main reason why Chicago could not follow San Francisco in cutting the price of milk is that the producers are bound together by contracts and a strong organization and the grocers could not get sufficient milk to supply customers," Westerfeld said.

"Another reason is the scarcity of milk in the district."

"The cause of the high cost of milk in Chicago is the expensive method of distribution in the city," said Secretary Putnam of the Milk Producers' association. "One block is covered five times by as many dairy wagons. We deliver milk at the depot at from $2.50 to $2.65 cents for forty-eight quarts. Its cost is doubled when it reaches the consumer."

Against National Move.

There will be no national move by grocers to insure cooperation with farmers for the marketing of milk. This was decided by the executive committee of the National Retail Grocers' association in session at the Hotel Sherman last night, according to Leon M. Hattenbach, secretary.

Seeks $4,000 Damages on False Arrest Charge

Two declarations of $20,000 each to collect damages for false arrest and malicious prosecution were filed in the Circuit court yesterday against John Seelentag, a chief of the Chicago club, by Attorney William Witty. The declarations state that Seelentag caused the arrest of Millard F. Sawyer, secretary of the Security Trust and Deposit company, charging him with opening a safety deposit box rented by Seelentag. Sawyer was freed on a "no bill." Attorney Witty says that the arrest was a plot to defame the name of the banking company.

"famous for silks"

1920 Country Club silks de rigueur for southern wear and assured a northern vogue

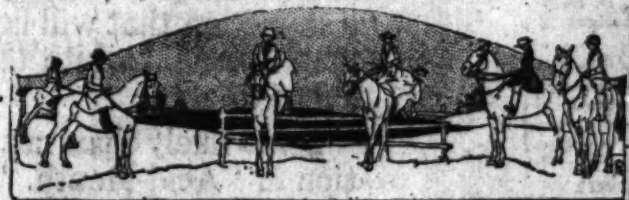

Leaders of fashion in the famous Florida and California winter resorts have established the vogue of these tropical silks for all outdoor occasions—and the fabrics the southern season sponsors are certain to dominate the northern springtime mode.

Fan-ta-si silks—a comprehensive choice

America's noteworthy achievement in silk weaving—strikingly original and suggestive of spring. Two tone and solid colors in ribs, cords, blocks, squares, checks, plaids, and honeycomb and jacquard effects; a diversified selection of high colors and soft, subdued tones

Kumai kumai, klimax satin, newport cord, whip-poorwill, fisher maid, and dew kist constitute a noteworthy group of outdoor silks—every weave, every color richly adaptable for street, afternoon, beach, motor, golf, veranda or casino wear.

And these are typical of a far broader choice—1920 silks for indooring and outdooring in designs artistic and unusual, and colorings clear, pure and radiant, whether they be brilliant or subdued—as the new mode demands. "There is an exactitude about Mandel silks."

NEW POLICE PLAN TO GIVE MAYOR CLOSER CONTROL

Secondary Chief Under
'Commissioner' Likely.

Creation of a new police official and the elimination of the present office of deputy superintendent of police are said to be provisions of the administrative police reorganization, or plan, which the administration is putting as a rival to the one approved by the council police committee. The plan, which the administration will submit to Mayor Thompson today by President Coffin of the civil service commission, Chief Garity, and Corporation Counsel Egan.

Keep Provisions Secret.
Before laying it before Mayor Thompson, the framers of the measure intend to discuss it.

On good authority, however, it was learned that the plan would change Chief Garity's title to that of police commissioner and that it would create an assistant commissioner to be appointed by the mayor. The executive would thus be given the appointment of the two highest police officials instead of only the general superintendent of police as at present.

New Job for Alcock.
A new position would be created for Deputy Alcock to be known as chief of the active bureau, according to those close to the framers of the new ordinance.

The idea is to centralize authority in the hands of the chief and an assistant official he could depend on, and one man who is familiar with the police.

"As it now stands, the ordinance does not prescribe in detail duties of police officials except the head of the department. This is being done to increase mobility and to give the chief complete power, so that the mayor will be free to hold him strictly responsible."

Mayor Expected to Approve.
Mayor Thompson is said to be ready to give his approval to the plan if Chief Garity says he can suppress crime within six months. I would expect it.

The measure receives the O. K. from the city council tomorrow, where the police committee's ordinance is a matter of business. It is probable, however, that both plans will be put to the police committee for a vote before the council is called.

'FATTY' COULDN'T MOVE CELLAR, SO
BOUGHT MANSION

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Boscoe Arbuckle completed Saturday the purchase of the house he was occupying which formerly belonged to Mrs. Randolph Huntington, a well known social leader. Arbuckle paid $30,000. He will make some changes in the house and add a swimming pool in the rear yard.

"Fatty" has his own explanation of why he bought the house. "I had to do it to save my cellar," he grinned. "Authorities won't let me move it, so I bought the whole place to protect it. Also I'm thinking of giving out to the newspapers a story that my cellar has been robbed, and that if anybody is contemplating moving it they'll lay off."

The house is that leased by Theda Bara during her stay here as a star in Fox pictures, and "Fatty" will be long since changed her pink and white into a habitation fit for a woman man like himself.

GIRL FROM MONTANA VANISHES IN RAIL STATION MYSTERY

THE police have been asked to search for Miss Frances Rock, 20 years old, of Missoula, Mont., who arrived in Chicago Sunday afternoon and disappeared soon after.

On her arrival Miss Rock sent a telegram to Harry G. Harden of 4119 Ogden avenue, which said: "Got in at 4:15. Meet me at Union depot. Will wait for you there."

Harden did not receive the message until several hours later. He then telephoned the Union station to have Miss Rock paged. She Miss Frances Rock was not there, and he hastened to the station.

Harden visited every railroad station in the city, and made inquiries of the Travelers' Aid society, but found no trace of the missing girl.

"I was with the 42d infantry at Camp Kearney, California, when I first met Miss Rock," he said. "We have corresponded ever since."

Miss Rock was graduated last year from the Sacred Heart academy at Missoula. Her parents live in a suburb of Missoula called Lolo.

Miss Rock is the fifteenth girl to disappear in the last two days. Seven of this number are from other cities.

Other girls whose disappearance has been reported to the police are:

YESSA MOYSESS, 14 years old, 340 East Forty-third street; disappeared on Saturday.

ELIZABETH WIELE, Helen Bichwie, Della Henry, and Anna Wigner, 234 West Belmont in Waukegan, Ind., spoken for by Chicago, on Sunday.

ANNA COCHARA, 1619 West Twenty-first street, Marquette, Mich., left home on Sunday and failed to return.

MINNIE PAGAN, 15 years old, 3149 Westworth avenue, disappeared yesterday.

The police have been notified and are seeking traces of all the girls.

PUZZLES POLICE
BY CONFESSING
MURDER OF ONE

The police are mystified by the confession of Joseph May to the Akron, O., police that he shot and killed a Chicago policeman two years ago. Chief Mooney was notified of the confession by the chief of police of Akron yesterday. May says the policeman had just arrested him for attacking a 13 year old girl.

WOMAN'S OIL CO. LOSES WOMEN AND HALF ITS OIL

Five Male Directors Get Job and Shock.

Stockholders of the Woman's Federal Oil Company of America (organized in 1916 to demonstrate that powder puffs blend quite as well with finance as do pipes) abandoned yesterday their cardinal principle.

Amid heated argument five directors were elected. All were men. Mrs. H. H. Honore Jr., a sister-in-law of the late Mrs. Potter Palmer, made no fight to retain her place on the board. She resigned as president on Dec. 31.

It was disclosed that there was $175,000 on hand. In addition, a deficit of $63,984.45 was reported.

Oil Land Leases Canceled.
Just when the five new directors were about to assume control, amid the cheers of 150 or so fair shareholders, something untoward happened. R. H. Owen, an oil man of 11 South La Salle street, appeared and canceled leases held by the company on 850,000 acres of land in Texas. According to Owen, the leaseholds were appraised at $240,000, or about half the value of the corporation's holdings.

Mr. Owen said he acted because of breach of contract.

"The men," said Mrs. Honore, "wanted the company from the beginning. Now let them have it. Do I think our misfortune proves that women are incompetent in business? I certainly do not. I hold personally two leases in Texas, worth more than $1,000,000, which I would have been glad to turn into the company had Judge George B. Holmes been willing."

Judge Holmes was once the corporation's attorney.

Plans to Protect Stockholders.
"Judge Holmes refused," Mrs. Honore went on. "He also threatened to reduce a $2,200 note to judgment and directed the secretary not to transfer any stock at my direction. So I quit. But I intend to protect the 2,000 small stockholders. I shall have to determine just what method I shall use."

Judge Holmes voted the majority of the shares at yesterday's meeting. He is held responsible for opening the sea valves against the women's control.

Mrs. Sheldon Clark, who was a defeated candidate for director, arose to announce her platform.

"We've had enough of women," she declared. "I am a woman, but I'm a fighter."

Investigate Stock Rumor.
Judge Holmes and Mrs. Elizabeth Doyle, formerly a member of the directorate, were reported to have obtained $30,000 in stock from C. D. Dickinson for $500 and a committee was named to investigate.

More than $15,000 worth of the Dickinson shares were subsequently transferred to Mrs. Honore and Mrs. Doyle for $450.

On one occasion Mrs. Doyle persuaded Mr. Dickinson to give the $30,000 block into her custody. Mrs. Honore explained, because Mr. Dickinson was hard up and might have been induced to sell the stock for the price of $10 a share, which the company's fiscal agents were asking. According to Mrs. Honore, the stock was still selling at $10 when Mr. Dickinson was selling at $5,000 shares for $500, all told.

Judge Holmes could not be located. But Mrs. Honore said the deal had been quite lawful, she believed.

The new directors and the number of votes they received: George H. Wilkins, 21,505; L. H. Kruse, acting president, 21,838; John H. Lyle, 19,020; Thomas H. Condon, 22,534; W. D. Russell, 15,836; Mrs. Clark, 5,500; Mrs. Mae Bromley Milroy, 1,236; and Dr. Irene Behlke, the other woman candidate, 2,944.

In the club department of Sunday's Tribune the photographs of Miss Rose Dickinson and Mrs. W. H. Winslow were transposed.

An announcement of the Chicago Nurses' club benefit was made to read "Wood's theater." The performance will be in Powers' theater on Jan. 20.

Charles C. Farmer of the Clarendon hotel was reported as arrested on a charge of passing worthless checks. The name is Clifford C. Farmer, not Charles.

An item from Waukegan, Ill., described J. A. Masonick as station agent at Lake Bluff. Mr. Masonick is agent of the Northwestern railroad at Lake Forest.

In an item describing the case with which marriage licenses are obtained in Waukegan the Rev. James M. Phelps was mentioned. It should be said that Dr. Phelps was rather a victim than a part of the so called mill. He was mentioned in the item because the reporter was directed to him and not because he was supposed to be connected with the "mill." This Tribune deprecates any annoyance to which Dr. Phelps may have been subjected by reason of the item.

In Monday's Tribune J. Cuniff was mentioned as business agent of the motion picture operators' union. Thomas E. Maloy is business manager of that union.

Mrs. Mary Nyden, 50 years old, 4606 Drovers street died in Lake View hospital yesterday of injuries suffered Sunday when she was struck by an automobile owned and driven by G. R. Ely, 2113 Rokeby street. At Broadway and Rosemont Ely, to avoid striking Florence O'Brien, 5 years old, swerved his machine up on the sidewalk, striking Mrs. Nyden.

Miss Henrietta Lawler, 47 years old, 3123 North Central park avenue, died of injuries suffered Jan. 7, when she was struck by an automobile truck at West North avenue and North Leavitt street.

Boy Sent to Loop Bank with $1,300 Disappears

Anthony Samolis, 15 years old, 2621 Emerald avenue, an office boy employed by Chandler, Hildreth & Co., real estate dealers at 54 West Washington street, was sent to the People's Trust and Savings bank in the People's Gas building at 230 yesterday afternoon to deposit $400 in cash and $900 in checks. He failed to appear at the bank and the police are searching for him.

ICE DAM BLOCKS WATER SUPPLY; REVEALS PERIL

Ice which clogged the intakes of the Carter H. Harrison and Wilson avenue cribs threatened the water supply of the north and northwest sides of the city yesterday and incidentally revealed the total inadequacy of the Lake View pumping station equipment.

Dynamite finally cleared the ice from the cribs intakes and at 5 o'clock last night City Engineer Combs announced that water pressure in the affected districts was normal. Twenty-five hundred pupils of the Key, Armstrong, Hanson Park, and Norwood Park schools were given a half holiday because of the lack of water pressure.

When the ice had been blasted away by crews of the Carter H. Harrison and No. 4 tugs it was found that only one boiler out of four was in working order at the Lake View station.

"I have asked again and again for money for new boilers for the station," said Mr. Combs. There were five boilers, all declared dangerous by inspectors. I replaced two of them by one big boiler bought for the Springfield avenue station. If this boiler should fail the entire Lake View district would be without water."

Mrs. Mary Nyden, 50 years old, 4606 Drovers street died in Lake View hospital yesterday of injuries suffered Sunday when she was struck by an automobile owned and driven by G. R. Ely, 2113 Rokeby street. At Broadway and Rosemont Ely, to avoid striking Florence O'Brien, 5 years old, swerved his machine up on the sidewalk, striking Mrs. Nyden.

Miss Henrietta Lawler, 47 years old, 3123 North Central park avenue, died of injuries suffered Jan. 7, when she was struck by an automobile truck at West North avenue and North Leavitt street.

Anthony Samolis, 15 years old, 2621 Emerald avenue, an office boy employed by Chandler, Hildreth & Co., real estate dealers at 54 West Washington street, was sent to the People's Trust and Savings bank in the People's Gas building at 230 yesterday afternoon to deposit $400 in cash and $900 in checks. He failed to appear at the bank and the police are searching for him.

Headquarters of Eighth
Ward Politics 'Bar-rup'

The salon of James J. Ahern, 3008 East Ninety-second street, long the hangout for all the politicians in the Eighth ward—save the prohibitionists—has gone into bar-rup. It has closed its doors, pulled down its blinds, taken down its brewery signs, and is parting with some of its fixtures. It is going to be a restaurant—and even the prohibition boosters may come around now.

MOTHER, DUNNING FUGITIVE, 'KIDNAPS' SON AND VANISHES

THE castle was all but complete. It needed only one more brave battlement, and Jimmy Jones Jr., 3 years old, was just about to put this into place when the door opened suddenly and he saw his mother.

Jimmy dropped the battlement, waded right through the castle and leaped into her arms. And Jimmy's grandmas, Mrs. Elizabeth Armstrong of 2026 North Clifton avenue, stood silent.

Mrs. M. A. d Jones took her son away without a word to the older woman. Then Mrs. Armstrong called the police.

"My daughter-in-law has kidnapped my grandchild," she said. "She was in the Dunning insane asylum. She must have escaped."

Mrs. Jones had escaped. She was committed to the asylum last December after she had been discharged by Judge Hayes on a charge of larceny.

"Jimmy, my son, married her eight years ago," said Mrs. Armstrong. "She was Maud Driscoll of Peoria. He left her after he came out of the navy. I have cared for Junior. He's all I had. I don't know where his father is, and now that both are gone, I am all alone."

Chicago officers of the International Harvester company yesterday denied the report, published in Boston, that Robert Bayer, German poison gas inventor, has been given a "high salaried position" by the company. They never heard of him, they say, and do not want his services.

DENIED STARDOM, GIRL ENACTS HER OWN MOVIE TALE

Ragbag to Ballroom, and So to Custody.

There were a number of things that Beatie Devanis didn't like. One was her name. Another was her job in the rag bag factory at Middleton, O. The third was Middleton, the fourth, her father, Gus Lidaskos, and the fifth her husband, Apostolos.

Beatie's father lost his hand some time ago, and when she was scarcely 15, she says, he forced her to marry Devanis. Devanis quit working and let his wife support him and her father.

Saves Pennies and Ideas.
Beatie put aside her pennies and her dimes and her quarters, and the years went by—two of them—and she had $100, a bunch of moving picture magazines, a whole gallery of photos she had cut out of said magazines, a home-made black evening dress, a traveling bag, and a wistful and intense ambition to be a movie star.

Last Tuesday she came to Chicago and asked for a job as leading woman. Beatie is now 17, and they say she's a Greek goddess. However, the film companies were not hiring Greek goddesses, and Beatie decided to wait until they were. Sunday she moved to another hotel. And there her father found her, and he took her home. Beatie put the photos and the evening gown and the magazines into her grip and started back to the rag bags.

Gives Father the Slip.
But when she got to the depot she just couldn't go any farther. She gave up the slip. She walked around the town for hours, and then decided to have her fling.

She went to the Hotel La Salle, took out that brand new shiny name she had been saving for the movies, registered as "Miss Helen Kimball, New York City." To the clerk she said casually that she was a movie star, and wanted a good room. She paid for it. She put on her evening gown and mingled with the dancers in the east room.

Last night she had a quiet little talk with J. Abraham, the house detective. She told him everything, and let him know she was down to bedrock. Of all she had taken with her to Chicago there remained only the grip, the pictures, the magazines, and a few pennies. Even the beautiful name had been used, and the ambition had flown, and she is ready to return and support her dependents. She slept last night in Denton Home No. 1.

250 ENROLL TO LEARN HOW TO TEACH RELIGION

The Evanston training school for religious and social workers opened its doors—rather the doors of the high school which houses it—last night for the first session of its first year. The enrollment was more than 250, twice as many as were expected.

The training school is the first step in the direction of greater emphasis on and more efficient handling of religious education. The full plan contemplates the adoption of week-day religious instruction by the various non-Roman Catholic churches along the lines first developed in the Gary schools, where pupils in the public schools are dismissed a certain number of hours per week to receive religious instruction in their own churches. For this trained teachers are needed. The indications were that Evanston will have a sufficient supply when the time comes.

The Evanston board of religious education, under whose direction the training school is operated, is made up of representative educators of the community. Dr. Norman E. Blackwood, head of the department of religious education in Northwestern university, is chairman of the board and dean of the school.

Judge David a while back sentenced Patrick Burrell to thirty days in jail for alleged perjury and contempt of court.

"I have nothing to say," said Judge David. "The Appellate court thinks I'm right. So do I. But it's up to the Appellate court."

So Prof. Smith Finds at Housewives' Conference

When a mere man has the courage to attend a household management conference of 250 hand-picked housewives, and when the only man there has the courage (or would you call it nerve?) to try to tell those women how to wash dishes, something is going to happen.

George A. Smith, who lectures at the University of Chicago on household management, has a national reputation as an authority on the proper kind of dishwasher NOT to buy. He can walk blindfolded into a household utilities store and select all the non-essentials for a kitchen, wedding them out from those articles you must have. But the women at yesterday's conference at the Chicago Woman's club wanted to be told what TO buy to save trouble in housekeeping.

Hamlets a Bit.
Mr. Smith had been announced to speak of "Mechanical Aids in Housekeeping," and he was to have an exhibit of them. He exhibited nothing except good temper. He tried to keep the women from spending money uselessly. He also rambled a bit from his subject by expounding his own favorite method of dishwashing.

SHORT COVERING BRINGS ADVANCE IN CORN PRICES

Bears Caught After Having Things Own Way.

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

The short side of grains was the most interesting a good part of the day, the trade placing a bearish construction on the barometer statement in which he warns against large and extended commitments of wheat and flour.

There was enough scattered selling to carry prices down early, and sufficient covering by the same class later to lift them to the highest of the day around the finish, with gains on corn of 1/4 cent, January leading. Oats were 1/4 cent lower, 1/4 cent lower, and barley futures 1/4 cent higher.

Corn Falls to Hold Back.

A decidedly bearish construction was placed on the statement of Julius H. Barnes relative to the wheat situation. Local traders said heavily early, and forced the May down 1/4 cent from Saturday's finish, to $1.23. At that figure commission houses became good buyers and absorbed the surplus in the pit. There was a noticeable absence of liquidation, and shorts found little for sale when they tried to cover. An advance of 5c from the low point followed, with the close within 1/4 cent of the top.

Cash houses bought January persistently in small lots. A sale of 30,000 bu No. 4 was made in stock at $1.26. Receipts at Chicago were smaller than expected, being 237 cars. St. Louis had 184 cars, the largest on the crop, but represented a cleanup of railroad sidetracks rather than any improvement in the crop situation.

Reports from the corn belt showed practically no improvement in the supply of ears, although the Decatur, Ill., territory received a few surprises. A general strike was reported at Rosario, Argentina, and was said to be spreading. A little export business was put through at the seaboard, but quantities were not given. The visible supply increased 250,000 bu, and the total is now 285,000 bu in excess of last year.

Oats in Easy Close.

Oats showed the effect of the loss of a bull leader, and fluctuated rapidly within a range of 1/4 cent, rallying sharply after an early decline, in sympathy with corn, and closed rather easy. There was some buying of May by houses with seaboard connections, sales of 100,000 bu cash grain being reported, but business was greatly hampered by inability to secure cars, bids being on a working basis. Country offerings were light.

Bids on cash rice from Baltimore were advanced 1/4 cent, to 15c over May, track there. The highest premium of the season, 25c, was paid for early delivery. Local sales of 100,000 bu were made by local dealers and 250,000 bu by local futures. Futures were depressed early by selling by scattered longs, but closed firm on buying by cash houses. No 2 on track sold at $1.60 1/2, receipts, 11 cars. Barley was unchanged to 1/4 cent lower here, but in the northwest the market was firm. Offerings small and demand slow. Spot sales were at $1.45 1/2. Receipts, 25 cars.

Feckers Lead Sellings.

Feckers were the best sellers of hog products early, as hog receipts were 66,000 and prices 10c to 15c lower. Local traders and eastern operators, working through commission houses, absorbed the offerings and sent prices up. At the last sale were at about the best prices, with rail gains on land and ribs, while pork was weak and lower. A little eastern and southern trade was in cash meats. Exports of lard and bacon for the week were 49,525,000 lbs, against 35,042,000 lbs last year. Prices follow:

BOARD OF TRADE CREATES FUND TO RETIRE BONDS

President Gates Makes His Annual Report.

Creation of a fund for the retirement of the $525,000 outstanding bonds of the Board of Trade and higher standard of efficiency and higher ideals of service were recommended by President Laetle F. Gates in his annual message to members of the Chicago Board of Trade at its annual meeting held yesterday.

"Circumstances beyond our control have deprived us of the opportunity to handle much grain which under normal conditions has sought the market," said President Gates, "and with the return of a normal situation during the coming year we must see to it that the temporary conditions do not work to our permanent detriment. We may congratulate ourselves that conditions were not as serious as to prevent a fairly satisfactory service to the public that we have aimed to serve for the last seventy years."

Wants New Members.
"The present value of the privilege of membership should have the effect of attracting to our activities new members of high standards of efficiency and high ideals of service," continued President Gates. "This will be admitted as desirable, since inbreeding leads to weakness in an association."

"That in a reconstruction process following a world war the grain business will undergo changes is not unlikely, and it will require the best of thought on the part of our entire membership to insure that changes shall be along lines of evolution, rather than revolution."

Report of Treasurer.

The treasurer's report showed receipts of $200,512 and payments of $739,458, leaving a balance of $57,735. Business of the clearing house aggregated $182,461,303, with balances of $57,835,530, compared with clearings of $182,504,409 and balances of $39,379,323 in 1919.

The transportation department's report showed activity in restoring equitable rates on grain. The sampling department sampled 131,373 cars of grain and inspected 16,999,545 bu out of store. Its revenues more than paid expenses and left a fair surplus. In the weighing department, owing to the right arrivals of grain and the increased cost of operating, it fell behind, despite the fact that 262,489 cars of grain were weighed, in addition to $1,167,531 bu which were weighed to and from vessels and transfer boats, compared with 265,481 cars and 73,168,759 bu in 1919. The custodian's department handled 127,071,415 bu of grain, compared with 172,324,916 bu in 1919.

SETS TOOL COMPANY.
The Williams Tool company, Erie, Pa., has been acquired by an eastern banking syndicate. The capitalization is $500,000, preferred stock and 30,000 shares of so-par common stock.

DETROIT BANK CHANGES HANDS.
DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 13.—(Special).—The First National bank changed hands in Detroit today when the heirs of the late Joseph Partridge sold a controlling interest to nine Birmingham business men for $65,000.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Advice sent out by the railroad administration to country shippers who appealed for grain cars were that the orders had been given for the cars and they will be sent to the eastern line. This is the same character of information that has been given out for over a week. Everything possible is being done to get suitable box cars into the grain country. From the way the movement of oats has increased the last few days, primary markets last week having the best run at this time in over two years. It is evident that country shippers have taken the cars to lead out their oats to all sales made some time ago. Were the railroads able to furnish the cars the grain would be moved fast. Present indications do not suggest any general improvement as the grain men see it.

January corn was up to $1.30 1/2 at the close yesterday, or 1/4c under the price at which December went out at. Those who took cash corn in on December purchases in the last two days of that month have been selling it out at a premium over January, 70,000 bu selling at 1c over. There also were claims that it will at a discount. As a commission man put it: "Either cash corn must decline to the level of the futures or the futures advance to the cash."

It was said that the large local trader who was a heavy seller of long oats Saturday, renewed his selling yesterday. A few of the largest holders have confidence in the future and are not alarmed at the break and unloading by others. They place their faith in the cash demand and said it was a question of offering, as the seaboard wanted all it could get. No. 2 white were 90c over and No. 3 white 20c over the No. 2 for car lots.

The main feature in the statement issued on wheat and flour by Julius H. Barnes, chief director, that has not been given in the grain corporation's weekly statement of late is that the soundest warning to the trade that it is not wise to get long too much wheat at high prices. New crop prospects will soon be a decided price influence, he says. The fall average of winter wheat is 29,000,000, against 30,000,000 last year. He says it is well to remember that America's second largest winter wheat year, 1919-20, came from 37,000,000 acres. Also that twice in our history the yield of spring savings alone exceeded 30,000,000 bu. Last year our total consumption for food and seed did not exceed 550,000,000 bu.

A Columbia, Mo., grain man wired that the situation there had reversed itself in the last few days. Recently they had been paying 10c for corn, but have now gone to a shipping basis under that market, the western demand being filled up.

From the letter of F. H. Montgomery, President of the Company, we summarize as follows:

The issuing corporation owns a business founded in 1838 and which has been successfully conducted for over 80 years.

The bonds are secured by mortgage, subject only to a small underlying lien of $54,000, upon fixed assets valued in accordance with independent appraisal at $1,347,137.

In addition to its fixed assets, the balance sheet of the issuing corporation shows net current assets aggregating $1,444,610. Under the trust indenture, net current assets must always be maintained at an amount equivalent to the par value of outstanding bonds.

Net earnings for the first 11 months of 1919, as verified by independent audit, after interest and federal taxes, are $299,410.65, or in excess of six times maximum interest charges upon the outstanding bonds. For the past five years net earnings, before interest and federal taxes, have averaged 3 1/2 times interest requirements.

Orders looked by the Company's wholesale department for May 1, 1920, delivery are approximately equal in value to the Company's entire wholesale business for 1919, and from present indications the Company's Fall business will show a proportionately large increase.

The Company manufactures and distributes through 3,500 agencies the widely known Knox and Dunlap Hats. Its product is a standard line, not only in all of the principal and many of the smaller cities of the United States and Canada, but in the principal cities of a number of foreign countries. In addition to its manufacturing and wholesale business, the Company operates its own retail stores in New York, Chicago and San Francisco.

HIGH RATES FOR CREDIT LOWER
STOCK PRICESCall Loans at 18 Per Cent
Part of Day.

The New York Times.

New York, Jan. 12.—[Special].—An early demonstration of strength in the industrial stock list today seemed to be short lived, and of slight effect in stimulating speculative sentiment when it became clear that the market was unfavorable.

Opening at 7 per cent, the call loan was rather sharply in the afternoon at 13 per cent, the highest figure reached since the end of December. While the trend of credit cost was recognized as a natural product of last week's statement by the Federal reserve bank and clearing house institutions, traders were disconcerted and the liquidation of long stock was reported a regular feature of the day's selling.

High priced issues, notably petroleum and automobile shares, were under heavy pressure in the later dealing. Numerous declines of 25 points were reported in the close in the industrial share market. Railroad stocks were inactive, inclined to heaviness. In the bond market business was light and prices of an indifferent sort.

Persistent bidding for silver in London and few days worked to lift the price to the extent of 1 cent per ounce, the open market quotation being 51.37.

The cable brought news that the London market was 35 1/2 pence, compared with 34 1/2 pence on Saturday, which was a secondary movement from one business day to another that supplies the market were thought to have dwindled under buying for continental and other foreign accounts.

Barley exchange moved sluggishly, showing a fractional gain at the end of the day. The other exchanges were inactive.

We own and offer, subject to prior sale, the bond issues described below. We have purchased these bonds with our own funds, after careful investigation, and recommend them as thoroughly safeguarded securities.

Bond Market Less Active;
Price Changes Moderate

New York, Jan. 12.—[Special].—Participation in bonds today was not as urgent as in the closing sessions of last week, and prices in the various groups acted independently of each other. Net changes, however, were not wide, but largely on the lower side of the account.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Cotton goods today were active at higher prices, cotton yarns stronger and flannel, and combined yarns in active demand at high prices. Dress goods were not so active, but some business on shirtings, flannels, etc., was done. Many jobs were in the market. The market showed a growing resistance to higher price levels.

Security Under Mortgage

Under the covenants of the trust mortgage, the bonds are not only a direct closed first mortgage on the land and building, but are also a first lien on the income from the property, a sufficient portion of which must be deposited monthly to meet the principal and interest payments in cash promptly on the days due.

1—Land and Building: The land fronts 100 feet on Main Street and 100 feet on Lamar Street. The building (in course of construction) will be twelve stories in height, of steel frame fireproof construction. A portion of the main floor will be used as bank space, being occupied under a twelve year lease by the Dallas County State Bank. The remaining portion will comprise three stores. The upper floors of the building will be subdivided into offices.

2—Earnings of Property: The net annual rental income on which the bonds are a first lien is estimated at nearly two and one-half times the greatest annual interest charge.

3—Location and Rental Demand: This building faces Main Street, which is the principal east and west thoroughfare of Dallas, and Lamar Street, which, with the improvements projected, is destined to become the main thoroughfare north and south. The growth of the city is constant and based on the great natural resources of the surrounding territory. There is an exceptionally strong demand for first class office space such as this building will provide.

Call, write or 'phone for Circular No. L-621

Price of both issues, Par and Accrued Interest, to net 6%

MONTHLY DEPOSITS: In accordance with the usual provisions of the Straus Plan, in both bond issues monthly deposits of principal and interest are required, providing systematically for the payment of both principal and interest in cash on the days when due and making certain that the rents as received each month are applied to the payment of the bonds. Each monthly deposit is one-twelfth of the total amount of principal and interest coming due during the year.

Select Diversified Investments
Adapted to Your Requirements

We know from our long experience in the investment business that it is no easy matter for the average man or woman always to select securities best suited to their requirements or to take full advantage of the sound principle of diversifying their investments.

For example, how many bonds of a given type should be purchased? How many bonds of another type? How many short-term notes or investment preferred stocks might be held advantageously in relation to the entire amount of securities owned?

To have one's investment holdings well balanced is a matter of large importance. This should take into account not only different types of securities, but also the geographical location of the properties securing the same. Here is one reason why the experienced investor in selecting securities turns to a responsible investment house for counsel and advice.

In these exceptional times the expert is in a position to render an unusually valuable service to those desiring to take advantage of opportunities to purchase well diversified securities to yield liberal returns. Our suggestions would include careful selections from the following:

	Yield About		Yield About
Railroad Bonds	5% to 7%	Short-Term Notes	5% to 7%
Hydro-Electric Bonds	5 1/2% to 6 1/2%	Public Utility Bonds	5 1/2% to 6 1/2%
Industrial Bonds	5 1/2% to 7%	Investment Stocks	6 1/2% to 8%
United States Government and Municipal Bonds	3 1/2% to 5 1/2%
European Government and Municipal Bonds	5 1/2% to 6 1/2%
South American Municipal Bonds	5% to 6 1/2%
Canadian Government and Municipal Bonds	5 1/2% to 7 1/2%

We shall be pleased to have you confer with us regarding the purchase of those securities which would seem best suited to your requirements, taking into account your preferences as to diversification and yield.

Our experience in the investment business covers nearly half a century, and numbered among our clients are men and women of large and moderate means, banks, insurance companies, corporations, executors and trustees.

$700,000 FLAT BUILDING FOR NORTH DEARBORN

To Be Erected Between Maple and Elm.

BY AL CHASE.
Three brick residences at 1117-11 North Dearborn street, between Maple and Elm streets, of the old time three-story and basement type, have been sold by George K. Crozier of Philadelphia to Michael D. Sheehan for a reported consideration of $700,000 and are expected to make way for a $700,000 eight-story apartment building next fall when present leases expire. The building will occupy the entire lot, 60x150, and will have one, two, and three room furnished apartments. Crozier Bros. & Co. were the brokers.

Pays $75,000 for Residence.
C. Winfield Brown, secretary and treasurer of the Chicago Waste Company, has purchased through Willis & Frankenstein from Mrs. Jennie E. Richardson, widow of Levant Richardson, the two-story granite residence at the southwest corner of Glenderson avenue and Kenwood terrace, for a reported consideration of $75,000. The lot fronts 137 feet on Glenderson and 180 on Kenwood. The residence was built in 1912 at a reported price of $100,000.

Samuel Flower and Arthur A. Mavor have bought the twenty-four apartment building at the northwest corner of Maple avenue and Washington boulevard, Oak Park, lot 100x170, from Alexander Fieger, through H. G. Krumpal & Co., for a reported price of $240,000, subject to $75,000. The buyers gave a purchase money mortgage for $10,000 and the balance in cash.

Adams Street Lease.
Chapin & Gore have leased through the local company to H. E. Deussen, Inc., the 40x100 store at 47 East Adams street, in the Trustee building, for a term of ten years from May 1, at an aggregate rental of $15,000. The lessee, now in the old Inter Ocean building, it is reported will spend $20,000 in equipping the premises for their use as a central distributing station for their downtown stores. The front part will be used as a retail cigar store.

A. E. Casey, who has purchased, through McGuire & Orr, the remaining interests of the Murphy estate in North Evanston, consisting of approximately 1500 feet frontage on Central street and on Roselle street, between Albany and Jackson avenues, will build two two-story buildings and three frame and stucco residences at once. Later he plans more extensive improvements.

$450,000 Bond Issue.

Blum in the purchase of the Great Western building, at 624-630 South Michigan avenue, the story of which was given exclusively in the real estate department of Sunday's Tribune, announce that they have negotiated a bond issue of $450,000 for Mr. Blum on the leasehold and building. The appraisers of the Central Trust company, which underwrote the bonds, valued the leasehold at $245,117 and the building at $271,250, making a total value of $516,367.

The General Fire Extinguisher company, with general offices in Providence, R. I., manufacturers of automatic extinguishers, has purchased the one and two-story warehouse and factory it now occupies at 1111 West Thirty-eighth street from the trustees of the Central Manufacturing district for an indicated consideration of $74,000.
